New Island Highway Outlet Slices Through Burnside Area

This aerial photo of Victoria's new Island Highway outlet, taken by Times photographer Bill Halkett, shows how traffic will be able to move in and out of the city on a straight, wide thoroughfare. The new road, expected to be in use early next year, is a far cry from the existing outlet—the narrow, twisting Gorge Road. The road starts at the intersection of Douglas and Regina and follows Battleford and the CNR tracks in the general direction of Portage Inlet which can be seen at top. First section of the highway ends in the vicinity of Thetis Lake Road. Second section will join the existing highway in the Goldstream area. The new outlet, combined with a new Patricia Bay Highway to the city, is expected to over-tax the city controversial roundabout at Hillside and Douglas Streets, possibly resulting in removal of the circular traffic control.

Red Goon Squads Storm Food Centres

Communists Adopt New Tactics in Efforts To Halt Distribution of American Supplies

BERLIN (UP)—More than 3,000 Red toughs stormed the western sectors of Berlin today under orders to break up the distribution of "Eisenhower food parcels" to hungry Soviet Zone Germans.

SLAVE LABOR?

Reds Said Holding U.S. PWs Back

PANMUNJOM (AP).—A healthier group of 394 Allied war prisoners came out of Communist captivity today and added to mushrooming reports that the Reds are holding back some PWs—including perhaps 2,000 to 3,000 Americans.

Eighty-one Americans were among the group released today under a brilliant sun at this walled village in the third day of the Korean war prisoner exchange—"Operation Big Switch."

Although the Reds had promised 400, an unofficial count showed six South Koreans missing from the scheduled 250. There was no immediate explanation.

The Reds also sent back 25 Britons, 25 Turks, 12 Filipinos and seven Colombians.

They said the next group, scheduled Saturday morning, would include 90 Americans, 250 South Koreans, 35 Turks and 25 Britons.

That will bring the total of Americans released to 311, a fraction of the 3,313 the Reds have promised to return.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Speculation grew in army circles today that the Communists have shipped captured Americans to

The Communists battled West Berlin police in the streets of the American, British and French sectors before being driven back behind Berlin's little iron curtain.

Western police used clubs and powerful "water cannon" mounted on trucks to beat off the Red invaders bent on wrecking food distribution centres.

They shouted "American swine" and "give back the food packages" at thousands of East Germans collecting the American food parcels.

Police said several members of the Red "goon squads" were sent to west sector hospitals suffering scalp and head injuries. A score or more of the Communist hot-heads were arrested.

The Soviets were reported today to be rushing troops from Poland into riot-torn East Germany to strengthen their occupation army in face of growing anti-Communist rebellion.

This report was given Western authorities by East German railway men who came into West Berlin to receive "Eisenhower parcels" of American food.

They reported the movement of trainload after trainload of Soviet troops into East Germany from Poland beginning last week-end.

Reinforcement of the 300,000-man Soviet occupation force in East Germany would explain the large-scale troop movements reported to Western authorities from many sources.

21,915TH CUP OF TEA IN BED

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP).—William Kemp promised his bride he would serve her a cup of tea in bed every morning of their married life.

Thursday, on their 60th wedding anniversary, Mrs. Frances Mary Kemp had her 21,915th cup of tea, served by her husband.

"Sometimes I didn't want him to, like when he was sick," said Mrs. Kemp, 80. "But he promised he would bring me tea every morning and that's the way it's been."

Kemp, 82, smiled and said, "a promise is a promise."

Rochon Beats Cuban

MONTREAL (UP).—Southpaw Henri Rochon of Canada outfoxed Cuba's 19-year-old Reynaldo Garrido, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4, today to give Canada a 1-0 edge in the North American zone Davis Cup semi-final round.

NEW YORK HAS BRIGHT SIDE

Canucks Entertained After Beating, Theft

NEW YORK (UP).—Three vacationing Canadians who were beaten and robbed here Tuesday headed home today with good opinion of New York after all.

Things were dark for Thomas Kelle, 21; James Brown, 24; and Hugh Johnson, 18, when five men beat them and robbed them of $140. They had been sleeping in their automobile in Brooklyn. They didn't even know how they would raise funds to get home when Macklin Boettger, a fabricated metal manufacturer of Long Island City, N.Y., stepped into the picture.

Boettger contacted the Canadians through the Canadian consulate, invited them to be his house guest and gave them a cruise around Long Island on his yacht on Wednesday. Charles J. King, owner of a swanky Long Island supper club, furnished their dinner and entertainment that night.

Fierce Pacific Storm Kills 1; Damage Heavy

VANCOUVER (CP).—A severe electrical storm struck British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest United States Thursday night and today, killing one man, disrupting communications and causing some property damage.

Brunt of the storm appeared to have hit Washington and Oregon states. A ranch worker was killed at Toppenish, Wash., and minor damage was reported in the two states.

Communication systems suffered the main damage in B.C. Some disruption was caused to Canadian Press teletype circuits serving Vancouver Island, Trail, Nelson and Prince Rupert. Telephone and other electrical circuits also were temporarily disrupted.

The storm was accompanied by heavy rain which drenched early morning workers in Vancouver and New Westminster. High winds and rain were reported in central and western Washington.

At Toppenish, Wash., Ramon Arellano, 22, was struck and killed by lightning Thursday. Police said the ranchhand was trying to turn on a water tap near an electrical transformer when the lightning hit.

2,000,000 STOP WORK

Strike Grips All France

By EDWARD M. KORRY

PARIS (UP).—Airline, subway and bus employees today joined a mushrooming strike of more than 2,000,000 French civil servants and nationalized job-holders which brought life in France to an almost complete standstill.

Shipping workers joined the walk-out and the nationalized Compagnie Generale Transatlantique was crippled. Technicians, administrative personnel and repair crews quit at intervals during the day.

The wholesale walkouts, which have crippled telephone, telegraph, gas, electric and postal services, was in protest against government economies demanded by Premier Joseph Laniel.

The government answered the strikers with an announcement that Laniel's drastic economic decrees will be pushed through in spite of the paralyzing protests.

FLIGHTS GROUNDED

Latest group to join the strike was the ground personnel of the nationalized Air France air lines. Many flights were grounded at Le Bourget and Orly Fields.

Subway and bus workers walked off their jobs earlier. Railway men, miners, gas and electric workers, street cleaners, garbage collectors and even undertakers had joined in the nationwide shutdown, the most crippling since the series of strikes in 1936 which brought the Socialist popular front into power.

The disputed economy decrees were scheduled for discussion today by the Civil Service Commission and by a committee of cabinet members concerned. The decrees were to be submitted to the full cabinet Saturday for final decision.

Laniel and his ministers repeated that the measures were not as bad as the unions feared. Informed sources said the vast labor opposition might force the government to modify the projects considerably before Saturday.

85 Per Cent U.S. Women Violate Sex Laws Says Kinsey

CHICAGO (AP).—Dr. Alfred A. Kinsey, the Indiana University sex researcher, says 85 per cent of American women violate sex laws during their lifetime and would go to jail if they were caught and prosecuted.

The percentage of male violators is even greater—95 per cent, Kinsey said.

Kinsey told a press conference Thursday that only a small fraction of sex offences are prosecuted because "the laws are so completely at variance with people's actual behavior."

The statement about women was drawn, Kinsey said, from his book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female," to be published Sept. 14 as a sequel to his similar volume about men.

OTTAWA (CP).—Grain producers in Canada's bulging bread basket delivered the highest volume of Prairie grain in any single year during the crop year ended July 31, the trade department said today.

Loss in 8 Lumber Fires Reaches $1,250,000

The eighth sawmill fire on the lower B.C. coast in the last four weeks razed the $250,000 Evans Lumber Company mill on the Cowichan Lake Road near Duncan in the early hours of this morning.

Damage in the eight fires has totaled over $1,250,000. The heaviest loss has been on Vancouver Island where the Sooke Lake sawmill at Leechtown suffered $300,000 damage on July 23.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police are investigating the cause of the Evans fire. They have also probed other blazes. In some of them arson has been suspected, but no charges have been laid.

More than $10,000 worth of lumber burned with the mill.

Water Shortage Hampered Firemen

Shortage of water seriously hampered North Cowichan road crews who manned equipment; but they saved the mill-owner's home and oil storage tanks nearby.

A stream of cars with spectators cluttered the Cowichan Lake Road and slowed the work of firefighters.

Perry Ross, North Cowichan road foreman, organized the firefighters and guarded the timber near at hand where a deluge of sparks caused grave danger of a forest outbreak.

Mrs. Evans, wife of the pioneer family mill owner, Robert Evans, 71, said her husband was the first to discover the blaze.

It started in the main mill plant and spread with great rapidity.

Only three weeks ago Mr. Evans was negotiating a sale of the plant. But although the intending purchasers actually took over the operation for some days, the deal was not completed.

Mr. Evans' loss is partly covered by insurance.

Shortly after Mr. Evans had telephoned the first alarm, a young man burst into his home to bring him a report of the fire.

"The man did most of the phoning for us," Mrs. Evans said. "I was in hysterics by this time."

The mill was electrically operated.

Inspector Bordeleau, at RCMP headquarters here said investigations so far have not given any serious cause for alarm of any widespread incendiarism.

In the Cowichan fire, owner Robert Evans said he made a tour of the entire plant at 10 Thursday night and everything was in order. He said no one was working in the big plant at the time.

the new Boys' Industrial School at Brannan Lake, near Nanaimo.

A list of damage in other mills this summer is as follows:

$25,000 damage to the Fraser View sawmill, July 8.

$125,000 damage to the same mill, July 24.

$6,000 damage to the Hammer sawmills, Stave Falls, July 24.

$100,000 damage to the Canadian Crosscutting Co., North Vancouver, July 23.

$500,000 damage to the Sooke Lake sawmill, Sooke Lake, July 23.

$100,000 damage to Aitken Bros' sawmill, Chilliwack, July 30.

$5,000 damage to Corbett's Lumber Company at Hope, B.C., July 29.

FREE FOOD STALL SPONSOR CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE HELP

Victoria's free food stall opens Saturday in the Public Market Building, Cormorant Street, at 2 p.m. But from 9 a.m. the stall will receive donations of food of any kind.

Mrs. Barbara Green, sponsor of the stall, urges deliveries as early as possible.

"There's always a big demand," she said, "and we need everything."

Persons unable to make their own deliveries are asked to telephone Garden 3720. Oak Bay Kiwanis members will pick up deliveries.

NATIONAL ELECTION

Repetition Marks Wind-Up Speeches

Coldwell, Drew Hit Same Themes While Prime Minister Promises 'To Do My Best'

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
E-Day is only three days away.

But the election campaign leading to Monday's voting does not appear to be reaching any crescendo. The political speeches are largely thinning out to repetition.

Though the ground campaign runs to election eve, the air campaign ends tonight with a final flurry by the Liberals. The CCF had its last national radio broadcast filing Wednesday night, the Progressive Conservatives Thursday night.

CCF leader M. J. Coldwell and PC leader George Drew hit on the same theme in their Lloydminster and Orillia speeches—agriculture.

The CCF leader said federal agricultural policy must be completely revised if Canadian farmers are to achieve reasonable economic security.

There was no fair or stable relationship between farm prices and farm costs. In the seven-year period up to last January, costs had risen twice as much as prices. Excessive price spreads harmed both farmer and consumer and helped only the large packing and processing concerns.

Mr. Drew promised two trade-building visits if elected, one to Britain, the other to the United States. A conference would be held with President Eisenhower to discuss U.S. restrictions on importation of Canadian dairy products and U.S. "dumping" of textile products in Canada.

GO TO LONDON

He would also go to London with his ministers of trade, finance and agriculture to "re-open British markets to Canadian farm products."

Later at Toronto, Mr. Drew appeared before an audience of 5,000 to 6,000 in his last big rally. He also made his last radio broadcast of the campaign and reviewed his party's 16-point platform.

He said there was nothing more certain than death and taxes, but the latter doesn't need to be so permanent if you make the right decision on Monday.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke in two Montreal market-places. At St. James Market, Mrs. St. Laurent preceded the prime minister to

NATIONAL UNITY

The prime minister spoke about national unity and mentioned four cabinet ministers—Defense Minister Claxton and Finance Minister Abbott, both English-speaking and from Quebec province; Health Minister Martin and Transport Minister Chevrier, both French-speaking and from Ontario.

He said he was getting tired of continual Progressive Conservative criticism that Mr. Claxton was negligent and inefficient. The defense department was bigger than any Canadian corporation. It was bigger than Canadian National Railways, but Donald Gordon, CNR president, couldn't know everything that went on in his organization. There had been "mistakes" in the defense department, but Mr. Claxton had been the first to admit them and to correct them.

DEPORTATION CHANCES 'GOOD'

'Act of Congress' Seen Only Way to Save Haymes

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—An immigration official said today that only "an act of Congress" could make an American citizen of singer Dick Haymes, who faces possible deportation.

Herman L. Landon, district director of the immigration and naturalization service, also said he considered the crooners' chances of being deported "good."

The 34-year-old singer, a citizen of Argentina, was arrested by immigration authorities Thursday while driving his convertible along Hollywood's famed Sunset strip.

A few hours later he was released on $500 bond, pending his appearance before an immigration examiner. How much freedom to travel Haymes has until the hearing was not disclosed.

Haymes was born of Irish-English parents in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 13, 1918, and came to this country in 1937.

The Department of Justice charged he is an alien ineligible for U.S. citizenship because he avoided the military draft in 1944 on grounds he was a citizen of a neutral country, Argentina.

No Life On Rafts Of RB-36

LONDON (UP)—The sighting of two apparently empty life rafts in the stormy North Atlantic dashed hopes today that more than four persons survived Wednesday's crash of an RB-36 reconnaissance bomber carrying 23 passengers and crew.

The crew of an American B-36 search plane reported that there was "no sign of life" on the inflated yellow rafts sighted 600 miles from the crash scene.

Four survivors of the 23-man crew that ditched the burning plane were en route to Canada and England aboard British rescue vessels. Five bodies were recovered from the sea.

The master of the British freighter Manchester Pioneer said he was sailing for Montreal, where he would land the three men he saved from the sea.

Another survivor was scheduled to arrive at Britain's Manchester Ship Canal today aboard the Manchester Shipper.

Capt. A. Starmer of the Manchester Pioneer said all three men aboard his vessel had been put to bed suffering from shock.

Routine search operations continued for the missing men, but there was little hope they survived.

Esquimalt Road Paving to Begin

Traffic will roll between Lamson and Head Streets on Esquimalt Road within a week, it was announced today.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said the $53,000 "grand canyon" under construction at Macaulay bend will soon be ready for paving.

"It will be in a rough and dusty state temporarily," he warned, and to protect nearby residents from dust a strict speed limit of less than 20 miles per hour will be enforced.

Macaulay bend reconstruction is the main job undertaken by Esquimalt public works in the course of completing a $300,000 roads program begun in January.

U.S. Army Refuses To Believe Seven Turned Communist

WASHINGTON — The army refused today to accept without exhaustive checking reports that seven Americans have swallowed Communism and refused to be repatriated.

Liberated Americans today disclosed for the first time that some United States prisoners of war, and at least one Briton, have swapped freedom for life under Communist rule.

Many South Koreans also were said to have chosen to remain under Communist rule as a result of intense Red propaganda.

BUG-EATER SWALLOWED GERM WAR 'EVIDENCE'

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says today one American prisoner ended Communist germ warfare propaganda at a North Korean prison camp by eating a supposedly germ-infested bug.

Sgt. Ed Hewlett, in Wolsong prison camp near the Manchurian border, was forced to attend propaganda classes. One day an instructor brought "evidence" of germ warfare to the class—a small glass container, in which there was a bug.

One American prisoner calmly picked the bug out and popped it into his mouth.

The prisoner was rushed to hospital, Hewlett said and reports were issued that the insect-eater was near death's door. But within two months, he was released from "death's door" looking amazingly well.

Beria Called Hiring Of War-Mongers

MOSCOW (UP)—Valerian Bakradze, premier of the Georgian Republic, denounced Lavrenti P. Beria last night as "a contemptible traitor and hireling of imperialism."

The denunciation in a speech to the union council of the Supreme Soviet of the USSR was one of the first and the most direct against the deposed first deputy premier and minister of internal affairs.

It was made in the presence of Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, N. S. Khrushchev, secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party, and all other members of the presidium.

Bakradze accused Beria not only of criminal activities against the USSR as a whole but also of specific crimes against the Georgian Republic. These included encouraging bourgeois nationalist elements and sabotaging Georgia's economy.

The Georgian premier was the last of about a dozen speakers at a four-hour session of the nationalities council. All approved a proposed new budget, with some deputies criticizing the work of certain ministries and others suggesting minor revisions.

This policy, he said, "has already resulted in substantial success as evidenced by the Korean armistice."

China as forced laborers or propaganda tools.

There is some evidence that a few Americans have even been sent to Russia to help build harbors on the Siberian coast.

Such use of captured U.S. troops, if confirmed, would help account for the discrepancy between the number of Americans listed by the United States as missing and the number listed by the Communists as captives.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, United Nations supreme commander in the Far East, said Thursday there is some indication that the Reds may be holding 2,000 to 3,000 more Americans than the 3,313 they agreed to return.

Gen. Clark said today the Communists might be holding unlisted American prisoners as hostages for political purposes.

(However, Clark suggested that "we should wait until the exchange of prisoners is over before we make this protest that I'm sure my government would make" if it is proved that the Reds hold more prisoners than they admit.)

Climber Reported Recovering

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—Mountain climber Alex McCoubrey of Winnipeg is recovering in hospital after being lost for nine days in the Rocky Mountains near the Alberta-British Columbia boundary, 200 miles west of Edmonton.

The 32-year-old veteran mountain climber told his rescuers that a dog found him.

"I guess I owe my life to Laddie," he said. The collie dog is owned by park warden Clarence Wilkins of the Whirlpool River area where McCoubrey was found.

ABOUT ABANDONED

The search was just about to be abandoned Wednesday when McCoubrey was found "well but weak." He was taken to Seton Hospital in Jasper. Earlier reports said he was found Thursday.

McCoubrey, son of a former president of the Alpine Club of Canada, became separated from his party July 28. One story said he turned back on the slope of Browne peak after the party completed 6,000 feet of the climb. The second said he disappeared during the descent.

Suffering no apparent ill effect from his ordeal, McCoubrey nevertheless was ordered by hospital officials to refrain from seeing any visitors.

They said he was apparently quite tired and was sleeping, but that his general condition was "quite fine."

Danger of War Remains—Ike

'Staggering Economic Burden' Faces U.S. People, Declares President

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower declared soberly Thursday night that the American people must continue to bear a "staggering economic burden" because the danger of war has "not ended in spite of the Korean truce."

In a nationwide radio broadcast, Mr. Eisenhower credited his administration and the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress with major accomplishments in the past seven months. But he conceded these were "little more than a beginning." It would be "foolish," he said, to claim the Republicans "have seen and conquered all the problems of our nation."

"The future, both immediate and distant, remains full of trial and hazard," he declared. "The end of our staggering economic burden is not yet in sight. The end of the peril to peace is not clearly in view."

The broadcast was the president's first detailed report to the people on the GOP stewardship that began last January after 20 years of Democratic rule. It was a mixture of pride for the "bright beginnings" and a realization of the heavy tasks that lie ahead.

Pledges U.S. to Fight Aggression

Mr. Eisenhower pledged America to fight any new outbreak of aggression in Asia or other parts of the world. He praised rebellious East Germans for opposing Russian domination. He said the Korean truce was good, but no cause for "wild rejoicing."

"We know how dear its cost has been in life and treasure," he said.

"We have won the opportunity to show that free people can build in peace as boldly as they fight in war."

He said the government is moving swiftly to seize this opportunity, and praised Congress for voting the $200,000,000 he requested to aid in Korean reconstruction.

At the same time he made his second move within a week to correct the impression left by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that American troops would be used as a labor force to help rebuild South Korea.

In addition to the Korean truce, he listed these major accomplishments of the first seven months of GOP rule:

1. Stringent economies pared nearly $13,000,000,000 from the budget requests of the Truman administration, a saving of "some $80 for every American."

2. Teamwork between Congress and the executive branch has been restored so that the government is no longer "divided against itself." He paid high tribute to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft for his contribution to this effort.

3. The nation's economy has been freed from "a labyrinth of needless controls."

4. "Repair and reorganization" of the colossal machinery of government is well advanced because Congress approved all 10 of his reorganization plans—"an unprecedented record."

5. Congress did what "sense and honesty" dictated by extending for six months the "onerous but needed" excess profits tax, and by postponing tax relief in other fields until next year.

He said the government as the Republicans found it in January required "repair and reorganization."

"We have made a good start," he said, adding that his administration started off facing "certain negative tasks."

"There were some security risks still in the government," he said. "They have been swiftly expelled."

"There were some incompetents. They are lingering no longer than it takes to discover them. There were simply too many people on the payrolls. We have reduced that number by stringent hiring policies that have cut to total by many tens of thousands."

CITY GOLFER TOOK PENALTY BY MISTAKE

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Miss Dorothy Herberson of Victoria shot a four-over-par 81 instead of an 83 in the opening round of the Canadian women's closed golf championship on Thursday, it was ruled today.

It appears the 19-year-old girl took a two-stroke penalty when it wasn't necessary.

It happened this way: Miss Herberson's caddy inadvertently had touched her opponents ball on the 17th fairway and the Victoria player figured the two-stroke penalty was automatic. A ruling was made today by the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union.

Royal Roads Student Dies In Plane Crash

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (BUP)—The air force opened investigations today into two plane crashes in which one flyer was killed and another seriously injured.

Flight Cadet Ernest A. Brown, 19, of Brandon, Man., was instantly killed Thursday when his Harvard trainer crashed about 45 miles south of here.

RCMP officers who first reached the wreckage on a hilly part of the country said the wings were torn off the plane and the front part of the craft was badly burned. The pilot's body was in the cockpit.

Brown, flying out from this newly re-opened training base, was last heard from while flying in fairly clear weather over Assiniboia, Sask. He was a student at Royal Roads Service College in Victoria, B.C.

The second RCAF crash Thursday occurred several hundred miles west of here in the foothills of the Rockies.

A Harvard aircraft from Claresholm, Alta., plowed into the side of a small mountain in the Waterton Lakes National Park, near the YMCA's mountain summer camp at Inuspi.

The pilot, who was flying solo on a routine training flight, was not immediately identified.

The Attack on GATT

NEXT MONTH THE SIGNATORY nations of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade will meet in Geneva to confront once more the continuing problems of the world's trade.

No nation has a larger stake in the Geneva agreements than Canada. No nation would suffer so much from their destruction. For under these agreements, which scaled down American tariffs, among others, Canada has secured a vast American market which absorbs the largest part of our exports, among them the exports of British Columbia.

It is true that GATT has not succeeded as its founders hoped. Its progress has been retarded by the same worldwide circumstances that have frustrated all the hopes of the postwar era. But GATT has been probably the most successful experiment in economic co-operation the world has ever seen. For Canada it has been an economic life saver.

Any attempt to repeal GATT, or even to whittle it down by degrees, strikes at the foundations of Canada's present prosperity, which is built on a volume of trade never known before in a country of our population. Moreover, if GATT is destroyed the world will revert to that international tariff struggle which marked the years of the depression, that form of economic warfare which Stalin, in his last speech, called the inevitable cause of the free world's ruin.

The signatory nations of GATT will meet next month under difficult conditions. They cannot expand their attack on high tariffs at the moment because the Eisenhower government has postponed any decisive action on trade policy for a year.

In that year of waiting, while Mr. Eisenhower prepares for a showdown with the protectionists of his party, the protectionists of other countries will do their best to wreck GATT. If they now begin to raise tariffs against the United States and themselves, the retaliation from all sides will be swift and devastating.

In such a poker game the United States, as the world's largest producer and market, holds the blue chips. And if other nations now proceed to damage the trade of the United States Mr. Eisenhower cannot hope to liberalize American trade policies. In practical politics the ground will be cut from under his feet. The American protectionists would like nothing better than the collapse of GATT and an excuse to raise their own tariffs.

In the present Canadian election campaign a veiled attack on GATT has come into the open. When Mr. Drew proposes what he calls a "national policy" of restricting the exports of our raw materials (even though our own industries largely depend on similar imports from other countries), when he proposes to divert our trade from the high-price American to the relatively low-price sterling markets, when he attacks the United States government and demands a "manly" Canadian policy, he is, in fact, proposing to repeal GATT.

For what he proposes would be outright violation of that contract. If Canada, the world's third trading nation, thus abandons GATT its contract cannot hope to survive. With the pillar of Canada's massive trade removed GATT would fall to pieces.

What Mr. Drew is really proposing, though he hesitates to use those words, is a return to the straight protectionist policies of former Conservative governments, like that of the late Lord Bennett, the results of which were familiar during the depression. We are asked, in more polite terms, to "blast" our way into world markets as Lord Bennett undertook to do in 1930.

Lord Bennett at least had the excuse of a world depression, which pushed all nations into unwise and often disastrous policies. Mr. Drew finds a nation in abundant economic health, with record trade, income and prosperity, largely built on existing trade policies. Yet he proposes to reverse those policies and, to this end, tries to persuade a 'healthy' nation that it is sick unto death.

But Mr. Drew, it turns out, is only an amateur of protectionism compared to the Social Credit party. It out-Bennetts Bennett and, in Mr. Low's words, intends to shut out all foreign goods if similar goods can be made in Canada, regardless of price. If such goods cannot be made here at competitive prices they will be produced at high prices and paid for by government subsidies to the manufacturers out of inflationary money created at the Bank of Canada.

In the issue of trade the Conservative and Social Credit parties differ only in degree, not in principle. Both intend to reverse the present trade policy, which has brought Canada its present prosperity. Both would repeal the Geneva agreements, which stand in the way of higher tariffs and the curtailment of the international flow of goods.

In Strange Company

MR. ROLAND LEGENDRE IS the official Conservative candidate in the riding of Lotbiniere, Quebec. Mr. Rene Bernatchez is a Union Nationale member of the Quebec legislature, a supporter of Premier Duplessis. A few days ago Mr. Bernatchez made an interesting speech urging the election of Mr. Legendre, the Conservative in Lotbiniere and the defeat of Mr. Hugues Lapointe, the Liberal candidate, who is minister of veterans' affairs in the St. Laurent government. And this is what Mr. Bernatchez said about Mr. Lapointe and his famous father:

"The County of Lotbiniere, which was fooled in 1937 to the effect that no man would be sent overseas, is represented today by his son who, ironically enough, is the minister of the victims of his father." (Report in Le Soleil, of July 15.)

That is to say Mr. Lapointe, senior, fooled the people of Quebec by supporting Canada's entry into the war. His victims are the returned soldiers of that war. Now his son, Mr. Lapointe junior, is administering the affairs of these victims. And Mr. Lapointe, junior, is himself a victim of the same conspiracy since he served in Canada's overseas forces with distinction.

Here is the ancient voice of Quebec isolationism, attacking the dead father and the living son who supported Canada's wartime policy. And, as usual in Quebec politics, the forces of isolationism are backing the Conservative candidates.

The Conservative party has won only two national elections in this century, in 1911 and 1930. In both it managed to break into Quebec only by allying itself with the extreme nationalists, whose dominating motive was a blind hatred of the British connection.

When the last war began in 1939 Mr. Duplessis opposed it and called a provincial election on a policy of neutrality. Mr. Lapointe, senior, almost single-handed fought and won that election for the Liberals on a policy of supporting the war.

Today, while Mr. Duplessis pretends to be neutral in the election, his friends and supporters, like Mr. Bernatchez, are supporting the Conservative candidates in many Quebec ridings, as they did, without success, in 1949. The only strength which Mr. Drew can hope to command in French Canada will come from Mr. Duplessis and will not be much.

Quebec made its decision in 1939 against isolationism, it remembers Ernest Lapointe as one of the giants of the French Canadian race and is proud of his son who fought in the war. It will take more than Mr. Bernatchez to destroy the name of Lapointe in Quebec, but assuredly Mr. Drew and his English-speaking candidates throughout the nation find themselves in strange company—strange but familiar.

Queer Question

THE VANCOUVER SUN assures its readers, with a fine air of solemnity, that Mr. John Pickersgill, Canadian secretary of state, may be Mr. St. Laurent's successor—this though Mr. Pickersgill is the most junior member of the government and says he has no ambition to be prime minister.

The Sun asks where Mr. Pickersgill stands on the great issues of the day. "Is he a 'commonwealth' man?" That is to say, does he want to preserve Canada's position within the Commonwealth and her present relationship with the British Crown? It is of the utmost importance in our opinion," says The Sun, "that this particular question be answered."

If The Sun knows anything about Mr. Pickersgill or the politics of Ottawa it must know the answer to that question. Mr. Pickersgill has long been the assistant to a prime minister who is as strong a "Commonwealth man" as any of his predecessors back to Macdonald, a monarchist by instinct and conviction. Mr. Pickersgill, as everybody in Ottawa knows and, as his strongest critics would agree, shares those views.

Fortunately they are common to all our political parties. To ask any member of the present government, or any government ever likely to be elected in Canada, whether he believes in the Commonwealth is to insult his intelligence. You might as well ask him, in the old phrase, whether he has stopped beating his wife.

FACTS, NOT FICTION

Emerson, the famous essayist, said the people elect the government, therefore the government is the people.

CCFers and Conservatives make strange bedfellows. Here we have the Progressive Conservatives promising to cut taxes by $500,000,000, thus benefiting each individual taxpayer by $200.

Then we have the CCFers who would nationalize everything from timber to hamburgers and split the profits with John Citizen.

How come the workingman betrays himself into believing that he will ever get benefits other than the ones he earns by the sweat of his brow. Promises are like piecrust—made to be broken.

And last but not least we have Mrs. Lydia Arsens who has a decided penchant for making irresponsible statements re God, communism, atheism, etc., when all that the people want to know are facts, not fiction.

Only time and the legislature will reveal the hitherto unforeseen qualities of this would-be stateswoman.

Myself, I am a Liberal, as also am I a member of the Church of England.

WITH PRAYER

It amazes one to see that so many people in politics seem to imagine that the Social Credit party claims to be "holier than thou" because they do not scorn to open their meetings with prayer. Why should a member of our last government imagine that because one man says Social Crediters are Christians (inferring that others are not) that the Social Credit party believes such rubbish?

No one would even pretend to believe if he did not wish to use it as a weapon against the party. I am sure there are many "good" Christians in the other parties (Gen. Peakes and Mr. George, to mention but two) and such being so why have they not acknowledged their dependence on help from above by asking for what will always be freely given?

My congratulations go to the Social Credit party for being the first to acknowledge the great King of Kings—"the Lord of Hosts is His Name," and to ask His guidance at their deliberations.

HIGHER STANDARD?

Dr. Fairley, Liberal candidate in Victoria, has repeated the ancient charge that socialism has always failed. The truth is, of course, that socialism, like Christianity, has never been established. However, countries which are directed by governments having socialist ideals and aims, do achieve a higher standard of living; material, cultural, physical, and spiritual, than do countries handicapped by the capitalist philosophy.

The three countries, Sweden, Norway and Denmark, have long been governed by "socialist" governments and the standard of living in these countries is among the highest in the world. Democracy and real freedom is stronger here than anywhere else in the world. There is no book-burning, no purging of college staffs, no red witch-hunting, no McCarthyism.

Cost of living in Sweden went up 37 per cent between 1945 and 1952. In Canada the cost of living in the same period rose by 56 per cent. Rents in Sweden increased by not more than 8 per cent from 1939 to 1952. Between 1940 and 1950, rents in Canada increased by 28 per cent.

WHY VOTE?

"What is the use of voting anyhow," is a remark so often heard and so solidly confirmed by the numbers who do not avail themselves of this franchise. The secret ballot is a freedom enjoyed by Anglo-Saxon nations that people behind the iron curtain greatly covet—a privilege, I imagine, they would hail as manna from heaven.

Perhaps we would prize the vote more highly when it is known that the June enumeration cost voters upwards of $6,000,000 in hard cash, according to a news item. This contribution to the country's coffers is what the dentist would call "painless extraction," mysteriously included in that burden known as taxes.

It is a fact that the bitterest litany of grievances against the government often comes from those who have not troubled to vote. Only those who have exercised their franchise have license to grouse.

'VOTING FOR A MYTH'

The Rev. J. W. Ruthven, pastor of a Victoria church, has issued a pamphlet calling upon all Christians to support the local Social Credit groups. I am very much interested as will be many others, and much of what Mr. Ruthven has said is a challenge to us all.

But, in my opinion, this minister of the gospel has made one very serious mistake (though I do not for a minute doubt his sincerity). It seems to me he has allowed his reason to overrule his emotions and that he has jumped in with both feet before taking a really good look and advising others to follow his example.

I believe a great many others have done as he has done. I did it myself during the provincial election last year and for the same reason. But it did not take me long to realize after observation that the Christianity that was being preached from the political platform was not being put into practice during the campaign, and after a few weeks I sent back my membership card before it was too late so that I did not commit myself to vote for a myth.

During the last session of our provincial legislature my opinion was confirmed by the words and actions of Social Crediters representing us. To take one instance alone, and a glaring one, I would mention the suspension of two senior civil servants without trial and the dismissal of another.

As a Canadian I very much resent the inference that Social Crediters are the ONLY Christians in the political field. As a matter of fact it is childish for the candidates in the three older parties are drawn from all denominations of Christianity and are not pagans.

SCARE BOGIES

In this country we have had many election campaigns, but I doubt if any have been carried on with less dignity than the present one. To try to scare people with pictures of late dictators, and other smears, is surely childish and absurd. On election day our conscience only should be our guide, not intimidations by unfounded and ridiculous scare bogies.

NO RED HERRING

In reference to the statement by Col. Longbridge re my membership in Branch 187 of the Canadian Legion, I would like to assure him that there was absolutely no intention on my part or my supporters, to misrepresent my present status in the Canadian Legion.

Unfortunately, due to a slight oversight in the editorial offices in Vancouver where the brief biographical sketch appearing in our campaign literature was being prepared the word "is" instead of "was" appears in connection with my membership in the Legion.

I was an executive member of Branch 187, Canadian Legion, in 1946. In fact I helped to organize it, but dropped my membership when I went to sea and was unable to attend meetings. Finally Col. Longbridge makes the statement that anyone connected with Communism cannot hold membership in the Legion.

Such a policy has resulted in the loss of some thousands of members to the Legion since the end of the war.

Ex-servicemen are not interested in the red herring, they are more concerned in the Legion acting for their welfare.

BELIEVES IT TRUE

During this election campaign there have been many cries of "waste and extravagance" thrown at the government by the opposition parties. From what I have seen and heard I believe it is true.

Many things have been brought to light recently such as a $187,000 land-scaping for a single government building, 2,000,000 pairs of boots for our armed forces, hundreds of thousands paid for stockings for our armed forces, thousands of face and bath towels, $4,000,000 dollars spent on army huts which were later dismantled.

While all this goes on, our armed forces are using out-dated equipment. I think that the party that is elected as our government should do away with all this and make an effort to keep these shameful happenings from ever appearing in the pages of Canadian history again.

PATRIOT.

AS CANADIANS

Some Conservatives, and notably, Social Credit candidates are promoting the alarming and dangerous policy of pitting the West against the East. This is un-Canadian and, if successful, can only lead to destroying Canada as a nation.

They are also trying to create the false impression that the provinces are being reduced to vassals of the federal government. Under our constitution the rights and responsibilities of both federal and provincial governments are clearly defined.

The record of our federal administration proves it has been most punctilious in not infringing on the rights of the provinces.

For example, the policy of the federal government regarding the construction of the Trans-Canada Highway was to secure complete accord with all the provinces. All details were by mutual agreement with each province.

The federal-provincial tax agreements were entered into by all provinces, with the exception of Quebec, by mutual consent.

These tax agreements have been very beneficial to the provinces participating, avoiding tax duplication, and added expense to the provinces and Canadian taxpayers. And it should be pointed out that no provincial premier has suggested that these tax agreements should be terminated.

The voters in British Columbia should turn out on August 10 and vote, not as British Columbians, but rather as Canadians, and we should reject those who advocate disunity in our country.

UTTER LACK

One is shocked at the utter lack of understanding of the real issues of our local election campaign as they unfold from day to day, and doubly shocked at the inane and even mad speeches of candidates and some of their supporters.

According to press reports Archie Gibbs, speaking on behalf of Mr. Fairley, obviously embarrassed by the conspicuous waste of the Liberal government and squandering to cover up its loss of overseas markets, told an audience recently that the Liberal party was founded by The Master. If he had studied a little recent history he would have known that the Liberal party of today is the modern equivalent of the old Reform party of Ontario with a decided Quebec bias.

Then we have our CCF candidate, May Campbell, reluctantly pushed in as a lamb to the slaughter to help bolster a dying cause where more prudent stalwarts feared to tread.

There is also our friend Waldo Skillings, otherwise a pretty sensible fellow, trying to convince the public, and perhaps himself as well, that he can run as a Social Credit candidate without being Social Credit. What utter supreme nonsense! Solon Low, his leader, campaigns for printing press money, "monetary techniques," and says so at every opportunity. In fact, and in the last analysis he stands for little else. It thus appears that if poor Waldo does not stand for his leader's monetary techniques he must verily stand for nothing at all.

James George seems to be the only candidate so far to put his finger on the real issue facing the electorate. He alone seems to realize that in the loss of our traditional overseas markets we have lost our economic stability unless we recover our lost commonwealth trade.

CLERGYMEN AND POLITICS

I notice that the Rev. J. W. Ruthven, a pastor of an organization called Tabernacles, claims Social Credit candidates are the only Christians in this election, a remarkable statement coming from one who purports to be a clergyman.

What an inspiration from a gospel preacher! Such a slam at our citizens will certainly not gain him converts.

HOT AND COLD

At Lake Hill recently H. K. Bate floundered through an attempt to convince the audience of 16 re the theories of Social Credit. It was quite refreshing to see someone attempt to expound the theories for the first time in the two campaigns.

I asked Mr. Bate what a Sacred government would do in the circumstance that there was say $2 billion of goods produced and $2 billion of scrip was handed to the people to purchase the goods (all being spent and none saved).

The manufacturers and distributors would immediately set our technological age to work and really produce, working double time to do so. Production keeps rising to say $10 billion, what would the government then do, Mr. Bate? Issue more scrip to equal the production?

His answer was that they would then "tax the surplus." Production must of necessity then stop cold.

I leave it to the intelligence of the reader to judge what a hodge-podge type of economy we would have along with an army of bureaucrats blowing hot one day and cold the next.

WE'RE GOING BROKE

One issue faces the voters in the federal election: Do you want a depression, the greatest ever?

Your answer will show by your vote on August 10. Support all groups but Social Credit if you want a depression.

Did you know that from March 31, 1939, to a period exactly 13 years later that the gross national debt had risen nearly 14 billion dollars or about 1,000 dollars for every person in Canada; enough to buy a new mantel radio, electric stove, a large refrigerator and a new television set?

This to every person in Canada if there was no national debt.

In a land so prosperous as claimed by the Liberals how is it that our national debt is so great? A war is unnecessary to avoid a depression such as we are entering under the Liberals. The truth cannot be denied.

"DEMOCRAT."

VERY, VERY GOOD MEN

In these days when enlightenment has come to a great many of us here in Victoria and in all British Columbia, those of us who hold the true faith have many difficulties—of course it has always been so and always will be—but we have our duties as well and so, while there is still time for each and all of us to join in putting the Canadian nation on the one and only path, I thought that I would like to add my word of encouragement to any who might be wavering, who might like to join us but are afraid of what their friends and relations might say or think.

We must not doubt—we must not hesitate—there is only one course for all really right-minded and Christian people and I don't think I need tell you what that course is.

Do not forget—"a man's foes shall be those of his own household." Alas, my own brother—he still remains a member of the Liberal party. Some of my oldest friends are just as persistent Conservatives or Liberals and one belongs to the CCF.

As I said, there are still a few days of grace and one can but hope, but—what can I do—they cannot be really Christians—although they are members of various church congregations. Unless they see the light at the last moment, I shall no longer be able to number them among my friends.

But we must persevere. I shall go on trying to the last moment. Even you, Mr. Editor, cannot be so blind as not to see if you will only try, and I will hope for you too.

I never was any good at figures and I'm not very good at an argument but I will try to learn—and they simply must be right because they say so and they are such true Christians and such very, very good men.

"SOCIAL CREDIT FOR EVER."

BATTLE OF LIME BAY

It was with utter surprise I read in the newspaper that the hero of the Battle of Lime Bay, Waldo Skillings, had stated at a public meeting that we, the Social Credit, had first suggested the idea of family allowance in 1935.

Surely, Mr. Editor, Mr. Skillings is not trying to make anyone believe he was a member of the Social Credit party in 1935? At that time he was trying to make himself a big shot in the Conservative party.

Now relating to this family allowance and perspective of political opinions how can any politician expect that persons on old age pension, war veterans' allowance and disabled veterans' pension should pay taxes to provide family allowance and old age pensions to anyone whose income exceeds $3,000 per annum?

Mr. Editor, the writer of this has always maintained that it would have looked better if the government of Canada had doubled the old age pension and war veterans' allowance to needy cases, instead of giving family allowance and old age pensions to anyone whose income exceeds $3,000 per annum.

In the same speech Mr. Skillings had the audacity to state what he would do for veterans if he is elected. Possibly he has forgotten the Battle of Lime Bay when he led an unprovoked attack on those war veterans living there on a mere pittance to keep a roof over their heads, which to them was home in the winter of their lives. Their old comrades on August 10 will remember the Battle of Lime Bay.

And on election day I am confident that the war veterans and their relatives will neither want Skillings or ex-B.C. civil servants to serve them. They will this time support the candidates of the party which over the past 35 years has consistently fought for the rights of Canadian veterans, that is the Progressive Conservative party of Canada.

DANGEROUS FACET

It is unfortunate that Leslie Roberts, when he wrote his article for "New Liberty," was not better acquainted with the activities of some of our B.C. MLAs, especially Mrs. Arsens.

By spreading this vicious slander about our schools they are presenting the most dangerous facet of fascism that we know.

Mrs. Arsens should be appointed without delay to the ministry of propaganda. Being a woman, and such an excellent Christian, she should be twice as effective as a man like McCarthy.

STAND ON LIQUOR

On the eve of the general election we may well consider whether the men and women who will be chosen to form the new government are such as will rightly relate themselves to the drink problem throughout Canada. The control of this problem is, as we know, in the hands of each province but the federal government which we are about to elect should have the major responsibility in this question over the country as a whole.

With the increased wealth and leisure which we are privileged to enjoy in these days comes the urge to indulge more and more in the use of alcoholic drinks, whether of beer, wines, or spirits, and without giving an array of figures, running into many millions of dollars in each province we know that the use of such beverages is mounting up, and the youth of both sexes are becoming regular drinkers.

The inevitable results follow in accidents on the roads, inefficiency in business and labor, and in crime, immorality, and trouble in the family life. No nation that allows such habits and influences to continue for long can survive.

Should we not at this August 10 election endeavor to place men and women in power who will set an example to the rest of the nation in temperance and so help save our fellow citizens, young and old, and our very country from this evil?

STAGGERING

It is said that "figures never lie but liars figure."

As a taxpayer I am simply staggered at the revelations documented in the Currie and other reports. General Peakes in his equally exciting "Squandermania" exposes a few examples of the fabulous sums spent with an utter abandon on national defence projects.

The cascade of many leaks in the national exchequer has bourgeoned into a Niagara of prodigality that has shocked the nation and discredited the administration. This is the testimony of the Currie, the McNab and Auditor-General's Reports, therefore true beyond peradventure.

No, the figures don't lie, but the Liberal government is making ridiculous contortions to gloss over them. Victoria voters should voice their protest against such betrayal of public trust by voting for James George on August 10.

CANNOT EXPLAIN

There's our happy play-boy "Waldo" at it again! With no sense of responsibility whatever. It has become comical to observe his floundering in what he himself has described as being completely outside his own understanding, referring to Social Credit.

We also have with us Mrs. Lydia Arsens advocating the muzzling of education in both sex and communism. Doesn't she know we don't do that in Canada? This country lives on the "open" road towards ever brighter horizons; our homes and schools are revealed books of health-giving knowledge that fortify our young with truth they need to know.

Few and far between are those who desire the check-rein and regimentation so recently observed in Europe.

"Waldo" was a Tory. What was Mrs. Arsens?

Well, anyway, they will vote, not for Canada, but for a party they obey but cannot explain! What a waste of ballots! KATHLEEN M. WORTHINGTON-LAKE.

'HARD TO BELIEVE'

On the U.S. Side of the River

BY PETER EDSON

THE three-way battle for authority to develop hydro-electric power resources of the Niagara River, below Niagara Falls, is apparently going to be decided by the U.S. Senate on the basis of how much "socialism" there is in it.

This is the eastern equivalent to the Hell's Canyon fight in the west. How it is settled will play a big part in determining the Eisenhower administration's electric power policy.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey came to Washington to deny that there was any "socialism" in his proposal to have the New York State Power Authority develop and market the Niagara power.

But New York private power companies have been waging a heavy public relations campaign to argue that there was no difference between federal socialism and state socialism, and that Governor Dewey's proposal was state socialism.

The Committee for Constitutional Government, with headquarters in New York, has also been conducting a heavy mail barrage on Washington to convince Congress that Governor Dewey's program is socialism.

Curiously enough, in his statement before the Senate Public Works Committee, Governor Dewey declared that before he could be convicted of socialism, it would be necessary to convict Theodore Roosevelt, Charles Evans Hughes and Herbert Hoover, sponsor of the Hoover dam.

But Governor Dewey insisted that the argument of socialism was dead.

"Suppose someone called it 'creeping socialism'?" Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee asked. After the laughter died down, Governor nor Dewey replied that if it was creeping socialism, it did its creeping 30 years ago and was now old.

"I find that I am now being accused of being a radical," said Governor Dewey, "whereas before, I was always called a conservative. But I still stand exactly where I have always stood."

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon broke in here to observe wryly, "That's what always happens when you adopt a liberal idea," and everybody laughed again.

All three of the congressional proposals on Niagara power development start out by declaring an intent to preserve the scenic beauty of Niagara Falls. What the fight is about is whether this $400 million, two billion kilowatts of electric energy shall be controlled by the federal government, the state of New York, or five private power companies.

The House of Representatives has already made its choice—in favor of the private power companies. By a vote of 262 to 120, on July 9, the House passed the Dondero-Miller bill, directing the Federal Power Commission to issue licenses to the private companies.

In so doing, the House passed up Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.'s bill to authorize the Army Corps of Engineers to do the work, and Rep. Frank J. Becker's proposal to let the New York State Power Authority do the job.

So now the project is before the Senate. But if the Senate now passes the House-passed Dondero-Miller bill giving the license for Niagara development to the five companies, Governor Dewey has indicated he will challenge the constitutionality of the act.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMAN

Promises and Probabilities

IN thinking about what lies ahead in Korea, we have to take account of our numerous commitments in the light of the certain prospect that the situation will look different after the truce from what it does now. We are not able, of course, to foresee precisely what it will look like at the end of October, when the political conference must meet, or at the end of January when Dr. Rhee says that negotiations should be concluded. But we can foresee as most probable that with the end of the fighting we shall no longer continue to have our unique position on the Korean question in the non-Communist world.

It is, I believe, kind of optical illusion to visualize the coming political conference as another Panmunjom with Mr. Dulles and Dr. Rhee replacing Gen. Clark and Gen. Harrison on our side of the table.

Though most of what we know about our recent dealings with Dr. Rhee implies that this is what is envisaged, it is not likely to work out that way. Any lasting settlement of the Korean question must necessarily involve more than the two Koreas, Red China and the U.S.A. It must involve Russia and Japan, and it could be of no substantial value unless they were committed to the settlement. And it must surely involve also the other principal powers in Asia—India and Pakistan, Great Britain and France.

The political conference in October is bound therefore to be organized on a different principle from the parleys at Panmunjom. The difference will be that several principal powers, now in the background, will come into the foreground.

For while Red China and its North Korean satellite, the United States and its South Korean client, have been the principal belligerents, they are not the only principal powers vitally interested in, and with lasting influence upon, the future of Korea.

This development was clearly indicated in the recent remarks of Mr. Lester Pearson. He said that the General Assembly of the UN—which will select the representatives—is thinking of organizing the conference as a round-table rather than as a two-sided negotiation, like Panmunjom, across a table.

There are many weighty reasons for welcoming and supporting this proposal. The first is that a Korean settlement which does not engage the principal powers would be empty and meaningless. For the Koreans it would be a snare and a delusion—a kind of cruel parlor game in which a starving man is told to order a splendid meal that never is going to be served to him.

When Mr. Dulles sees Dr. Rhee, he should avoid ambiguity on this crucial point of reality and good faith. For the Koreans no settlement can be genuine unless it is underwritten, not only by the United States and by the United Nations in general but by Red China, the Soviet Union, and a sovereign Japan.

The United States and Dr. Rhee cannot assure the future of Korea. A settlement which does not commit the great neighbors of Korea would be a gold brick.

The second reason for welcoming the round table is that—as things stand now—Mr. Dulles is so immobilized by promises that he cannot negotiate seriously about the future of Korea. A round table conference could discuss new constructive plans for Korea, in which Mr. Dulles's promises would be transcended, and the United States, to put it bluntly, gotten off the hook.

Mr. Dulles has promises outstanding to the UN, to Red China, to Formosa-China, to the North Koreans, to Dr. Rhee and to large elements in Congress. Some of these promises are legal like those which stem from the charter of the UN and from the armistice agreement; others are moral, political, and tainted with prudent ambiguity, such as the promises to Dr. Rhee and to Congress.

The array of all these promises is not a policy. They are ransom paid to avoid trouble in order to get on to an armistice.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Leigh Blasts Critics

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The lady seemed just about ready to blow her blonde wig. She was mad. This was Janet Leigh. She was beautifully irate in a honey haired that made her look surprisingly like Betty Grable.

The fake hair was for her role in Prince Valiant and she had to dye her own tresses the same color so they wouldn't show underneath.

But that wasn't what made her mad. It was some things that had been printed about her and her handsome hubby, Tony Curtis. Mean, unkind things. Like calling the Curties publicity-mad exhibitionists who are never happy unless a camera lens is prying into their lives. When such comments appeared in a couple of magazines, Janet composed a scorching letter. "Then I had some body correct the spelling and I sent it off," she declared. "Oh, I'm so mad!"

And well she might be. Last year she and Tony were the first husband and wife team to win the annual pat on the back from the Hollywood women's press club. They won the golden apples for being the most co-operative stars.

Now come the blasts that the Curties are too co-operative. It's a bitter pill to Janet, who thought she was pleasing everybody.

"She had some interesting comments on the fishbowl life of a movie star."

"Publicity is an important part of the business of being a movie performer," she observed. "Mind you, we don't think it's the most important part, as some critics claim we believe."

"Nothing, but nothing, is more important to us than our work. After all, that's the payoff, the reason for the movie business, what appears up there on the screen."

"Okay, so you can help sell personalities via publicity. But you have to give something, once you get the people inside the theatre. If they think you're a lousy performer, you're through, brother."

"Neither Tony nor I will allow anything to interfere with our work and that goes for publicity, too. If some publicity assignment comes up while I'm on a picture and I can do it without any trouble, okay, fine. But if it interferes with what I have to do in front of the cameras, I ask if it can't be postponed until after the end of the picture."

Janet said she even volunteers to come in after the end of the film at no charge to the company. Most other glamour girls would charge $1,000 a day to do publicity requests.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1953—1,274 HOURS

SYNOPSIS—A surge of moist air caused numerous thunderstorms in the southern part of B.C. Thursday night. This moist air will slowly become drier with decreasing cloud and shower activity Saturday.

Along the north coast a good deal of cloud with overnight fog banks will persist Saturday. There will, however, be afternoon sunshine along the northern mainland.

In the northern interior, where the air is drier, variable cloudiness with sunshine and a few afternoon showers will be the fare for Saturday.

Temperatures will remain much as they have been

PRAIRIE ROUND-UP

Polio Serum Sale Sparks Controversy

WINNIPEG (CP)—The limited sale of gamma globulin as a polio preventative has sparked a controversy in Winnipeg where a polio epidemic is under way, but Dr. M. R. Elliott, deputy minister of health, says the sale is "perfectly legitimate."

Today health officials reported 27 new polio cases, bringing the province's 1953 toll to 571 cases and 10 deaths.

Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council passed a motion asking government departments to take immediate steps to supervise strict control and distribution of the anti-polio serum. The action followed reports that the serum was being sold privately for $25 a dose.

The labor council said a man had tried to buy serum for "his polio-stricken daughter" and was refused. Dr. Elliott said, however, that gamma globulin is used to prevent poliomyelitis, not cure it.

He said the serum is not comparable with others used for diphtheria inoculations or vaccinations for smallpox. Gamma globulin has a limited use and effectiveness. He added the serum has been on the market for a number of years and has been sold for measles, infectious hepatitis, and other diseases.

Dr. Elliott said there is sufficient gamma globulin on hand for all legitimate contacts, and if people want it who don't qualify under the restriction, they can obtain it from doctors privately.

NANAIMO—Solicitor-General Ralph Campney has wired Mayor George Muir assuring him that construction of an extension to Nanaimo's assembly wharf will proceed immediately.

His wire came in reply to a query from the mayor as to why there had been delay.

Mr. Campney said the delay was caused because the site was under lease to Eureka Sawmills, but that an agreement had been reached now between the government and Eureka so that the work could proceed.

NANAIMO—Close to 1,000 persons turned out Thursday night at the mass rally for all Nanaimo candidates held at Comox Road Park under sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The candidates were subject to questioning after their addresses. Alf Hughes, president of the Nanaimo Junior Chamber of Commerce, was chairman of the meeting.

NANAIMO—William Hennessy, holidaying here from Vancouver, paid a total of $58 when he came to court on two charges of causing wilful damage.

Hennessy, aged 20, threw a ginger ale bottle out his hotel window, smashing the window glass and breaking the windshield of a car parked below. Hennessy admitted having been drinking.

ALBERNI—Sixty years of married life were celebrated today by Mr. and Mrs. L. Pilbeam, 421 Burke Road.

They were married Aug. 7, 1893, in Titcher, Sussex. They were among original settlers of Combs when that community was founded by the Salvation Army in 1910.

Mr. Pilbeam, 83, and his wife, 85, have lived in Alberni since 1944.

LADYSMITH—A monument built to honor departed members of the IOOF and Rebekahs Lodge of Ladysmith will be dedicated at a memorial ceremony here on Sunday.

The monument, designed and built by Fred Rumble, occupies a place of prominence at the cemetery here. Grand Master A. D. McRae of Mission, will attend. Rev. T. H. Nuttal of

Krestova Homes
Leveled by Fire

NEDSON, B.C. (BUP)—The RCMP reported today two more homes in the Sons of Freedom Douthor settlement at Krestova, B.C., had been leveled by fire, bringing to 16 the number of dwellings put to the torch in the district in the past week.

The blazes occurred 48 hours after Attorney-General Robert Bonner visited the area.

The Krestova fires were spotted by RCMP highway patrol officers. No one was injured and all belongings were removed from the burning homes of G. Zarubin and Edward N. Podmeroff.

Party Politics Breeds Corruption, Says Jukes

No party will ever introduce Social Credit, Maj. A. H. Jukes, independent Social Credit candidate for Victoria riding, told a meeting of about 20 in the Louheed banquet hall Thursday night.

"If a drugless healer offered you drugs as a cure you'd know he was a phony," said Maj. Jukes. "So it is with the Social Credit or any other party offering you true Social Credit."

In a concentrated attack upon party politics in general, Maj. Jukes quoted the old saying "Division makes faction and faction brings ruin."

"Dividing society into parties or gangs fighting for position, prestige or power," he said, "inevitably brings corruption and chaos. The party system is now on trial and recent events in B.C. show the lack of trust in the system."

He illustrated his point by taking the case of a hole in the road that is a menace to everyone. No one asks why the hole is not filled immediately even though everyone knows there is the physical means of fixing it in the shape of labor, material and skill.

PARTY MAKES ISSUE

"The party politician makes a party issue of that hole," he said. "When one party proposes to do the job the others oppose it, not because the proposal is unreasonable but because the first party suggested it."

"The Social Credit party," he said, "has embodied all sorts of financial changes which are not Social Credit and which have been condemned by the secretariat of the world movement in England. It says this party constitutes a dangerous threat to real Social Credit."

Criticizing an editorial page feature in the Daily Times which quoted a number of the world's leading economists in opposition to the Douglas Social Credit system, Maj. Jukes said that one of them, the late J. M. Keynes, had recanted on his deathbed, and that in any case it was not what the economists thought but results that counted.

Rodney Webster and Walter Taylor talked briefly on the meaning of Social Credit to the country's youth. M. F. Louheed acted as chairman.

Red Trial Gets Priest's 'Irish' Up

HONG KONG (UP)—One of three Roman Catholic priests expelled from Communist China said today that the farce of a Red trial "got my Irish up."

Father John O'Mara said his statements were twisted at the trial.

"That's a dirty trick fit for Goebbels," he said he told the judge.

Father O'Mara and two other priests said they were arrested Wednesday and subjected to search and questions before the trial.

Three other priests arrived from Shanghai Thursday night, after being kicked out by the Communists. They were held in house arrest for 10 to 50 days. They are Father Xavier Burkler, 42, of Switzerland; Father Maurice La Marche, 37, of Canada, and Father Robert Sallem, 40, of France.

Bishop Dominic Desperben, 55, last Catholic missionary on Hainan Island, also arrived today. He was expelled by the Reds on grounds his passport was outdated.

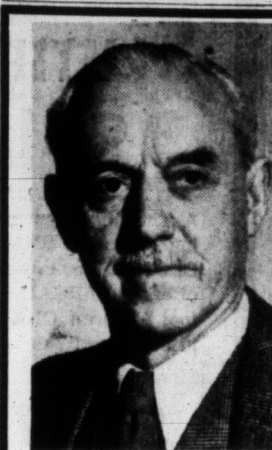

"I think they want to take over my home and hospital," the bishop said. "I was treated politely but firmly."

Minor Puck Meeting in Nanaimo

A Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association meeting for all minor hockey divisions is scheduled for Malaspina Hotel in Nanaimo, Sunday at 9.

Representatives from Victoria, New Westminster, Vancouver, Kerrisdale, Duncan and Nanaimo are expected to be on hand.

Annual meeting of the PCAHA has been called for Kerrisdale Arena at Vancouver, August 16, by president Ivan Temple of Victoria. New plans for the coming season and approval of a new constitution, already accepted by the PCAHA, will be on the agenda.

DUKE TALKS ABOUT HIS NIECE

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A correspondent of the pro-Communist newspaper Milano Sera asked the vacationing Duke of Windsor at Portofino Thursday four questions about Britain's Princess Margaret. The questions and his answers:

Q—"Is Princess Margaret really in love with Capt. Townsend?"

A—"Ask her."

Q—"Do you believe she will marry him?"

A—"I am not sure."

Q—"Would you be happy with this marriage?"

A—"Oh, yes."

Q—"Is the Duchess of Windsor of the same opinion?"

A—"I don't know, but I think so."

Hitler Had 'Hate Love' For Britain Says Adviser

LONDON (CP)—Hitler had a "hate love" for Britain and fought her with reluctance and a divided heart, says a book by the man who was his wartime adviser on British affairs.

The author, Fritz Hesse, says it is effect that Hitler had a "hate love" for Britain, and that rather than conquer the world he would have liked to divide it with the realm ruled from Whitehall.

The book, written in German, was discussed in the Manchester Guardian by critic F. A. Voigt who said the controversial theory of Hitler's "hate love" was closely reasoned and supported by much evidence.

Among other things, the book contends that Hitler never actively proposed invasion of England and regarded it with extreme skepticism.

THE DEATH TOLL stood at three today after a cabin cruiser carrying 10 persons hit a buoy and capsized in the St. Lawrence River.

The victims were Mrs. Eugene Jobin, 41, of Montreal; five-year-old Darnard Desmarceaux of Montreal and two-year-old Cecile Hervieux of Lanoraie.

Yanks Chisox Clash

Sweep Would Give Bombers Clear Run

Mathematicians to the contrary, New York Yankees have an opportunity this week-end to wrap up their fifth-straight American League pennant.

The figure filberts can show you this is not so, that no matter what happens in the Yanks' four games with Chicago White Sox starting today, all eight teams in the league still will remain potential flag winners.

But if the Yankees should win all four, those fellows with the figures are going to have a hard time convincing many folks that the race isn't over.

New York led Chicago by five games going into today's contest.

The Yankees defeated Detroit 5-2 Thursday without much effort, while the White Sox rallied for five runs in the eighth to edge Philadelphia 6-4. Chicago has won eight out of 10 on its eastern road trip; the Yankees have taken seven of nine on their current home stand.

BRAVES STAY ALIVE

Milwaukee kept alive its fleeting pennant hopes in the National League with a split against first-place Brooklyn. The Dodgers took the first game 4-3 on Pee Wee Reese's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning. Milwaukee won the nightcap 3-2 on a triple by Harry Hanebrink that drove in all three runs in the ninth inning. There were two men out and the Braves had been trailing 2-0.

In other National League action Harvey Haddix of St. Louis Cardinals had a no-hitter going for eight innings before Philadelphia nipped him for a pair of singles in the ninth. He escaped with a 2-0 shutout, his 14th victory of the year. New York broke a six-game losing streak at the expense of Chicago 12-6 and Pittsburgh won its third in a row from Cincinnati 4-3.

TED RETURNS

Ted Williams returned to Boston Red Sox as a futile pinch-hitter as the Sox bowed to St. Louis 8-7 in 10 innings. Washington dumped Cleveland 4-1, Frank Shea winning his ninth game.

No-Hitter

Harry Markell hurled a no-hitter Thursday night but his own wildness and a tarry fielding spoiled his shutout bid as Syracuse Chiefs defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1 in the seven-inning opener of an International League double-header.

The Leafs won the nightcap 3-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Vic Lombardi and Don Johnson.

SOLARIUM DERBY SHOWS HUGE PROFIT

A cheque for $6,008.57 will be turned over to the Solarium as a result of the July 26 benefit salmon derby sponsored by the Anglers and the Times in Saanich Inlet.

This was reported at a final committee meeting Thursday night. Report came from George Douglas, secretary of the VSIAA.

This boosts the total amount salmon derbies have realized for the Solarium in seven years to $19,305.

Rochon, Main Favored

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's experienced tennis stars, Henri Rochon and Lorne Maln, were in the favorites' role today for the opening of the Cuba-Canada North American zone semi-final round of Davis Cup competition.

Observers who have watched both teams at practice feel the Canadians can dispose of the Garrido brothers—Reynaldo, 18, and Orlando, 22—in the opening singles and quickly set up a 2-0 lead for Canada.

BY DENNY BOYD

Bill Millikan has a soft spot in his heart for Canadian tennis players. In fact it makes him feel quite badly to beat a Canadian but it is a task he finds necessary along the amateur tournament trail.

Rangy, sun-bronzed and as handsome as a Burma Shave ad, Millikan looks every bit the tennis player.

A native of Seattle, Millikan is now playing out of Madigan Army Camp in Tacoma where he is stationed with the U.S. Army. His unit is sponsoring him in his fling with the B.C. Open Tennis Championships this week at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Bowling's Best and Near Best

City Fair Sex Bowlers Can't Match Male Mark

Victoria men lawn bowlers may be making a sweep of their section of the 26th annual Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association tournament, but local women trundlers are meeting with no such success.

Mrs. Helen Kingscote of West Point Grey built up an early lead and went on to capture the women's singles championship and James McMartin cup by defeating Mrs. Joan Turner of the Canadian Pacific Club, 15-4, at the CPR greens Thursday. Mrs. Kingscote held a 13-1 lead after nine ends.

In the women's rinks section, Mrs. C. Brackenridge's West Point Grey quartet copped the championship by defeating Mrs. Chambers' rink from New Westminster, 17-7. The visitors took possession of the George Strait Cup, held formerly by Mrs. Holmes of White Rock.

LOVE HOPE

Only one championship event remains in which local women can post a victory. Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. McLeod of the CPR club advanced to the doubles final by defeating Mrs. Rae and Mrs. Felix of Grandview, 14-8. They meet Mrs. Law and Mrs. Smith of Dunbar in the finals tonight. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Law defeated Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Holmes of White Rock, 17-11.

ALL CITY FINAL

In men's singles play at Beacon Hill greens, Pete Johnston of Burnside defeated Jack Sutherland of Nanaimo, 15-13, in a game that went 19 ends. Johnston joins clubmate Wallace Fea in the finals.

Men's doubles also reached the semifinals with Fea and Johnston of Burnside. Murray and Rae of Grandview, H. C. Woodcock and Drysdale of West Point Grey and Whyte and Smellie of Beacon Hill gaining the select round.

Women's doubles finals are scheduled for play tonight with all men's finals billed Saturday morning.

Matthews-Cockell Bout Rated Toss-Up

SEATTLE (Special)—Their sights set on the heavyweight championship of the world, Don Cockell of London and Harry Matthews of Seattle come to grips here at Sicks' Stadium tonight.

Cockell, British Empire heavyweight champion, and Matthews, No. 9 contender for the world's title, will punch in a scheduled 10-round encounter which will eliminate the loser from championship consideration and which will elevate the winner into a probable shot at Rocky Marciano.

Promoter Harry Glickman of the Seattle Boxing Club has estimated a crowd of 18,000 fans and a gross gate of $100,000.

In any event, with more than $60,000 in the till early this week, the bout is a cinch to break all records for the Pacific northwest.

DANGEROUS FOE

Manager Jack Hurley, more worried each time he watched Harry's opponent in the gym, announced that "The Athlete" is in perfect condition. "He meets a tough, dangerous opponent," said the Deacon, "but he simply can't afford to lose and I don't think he will."

Cockell, confident of a victory in his American debut, planned to finish training with another boxing drill Wednesday afternoon. His training appearances have impressed turnaway crowds at the Evergreen gym and he'll be no worse than even money at fight time.

Cockell has weighed in at 210, Matthews 182.

Indefinite Suspension

NEW YORK (AP)—Matt Batts, first string catcher for the Detroit Tigers, was suspended indefinitely by president Will Harridge of the American League Thursday for failure to pay the $100 fine levied against him two weeks ago.

Batts was fined for fighting with Billy Martin, New York Yankee infielder, at Detroit. Batts said he had mailed the cheque. However, it had not been received by the American League offices in Chicago.

The Senators climbed to within a game and a half of first place Spokane on the strength of the 9-1 win at Salem and a split in the Spokane-Calgary doubleheader at Calgary. The Indians won the seven-inning game 7-6 but Calgary took the nightcap 11-4.

Nicholas notched his 18th WIL win against four losses as he silenced the normally potent Yakima bats.

Spokane and Calgary pitchers dished out eight home run balls in the doubleheader at Calgary. Stan Palys homered three times for the Indians and Will Hailey and Jim Command had one apiece.

Charlie Mead, Rocky Tedesco and playing-manager Gene Lillard homered for Calgary.

At Edmonton, the Lewiston Broncos defeated the Eskimos 4-2 and tied them in fifth place in the standings. Dean Kime in the winning pitcher, although he needed help in the ninth after Edmonton scored one run with only one out. John Marshall relieved Kime and retired the next two Edmonton batters.

Jess Dobernic also came in as a fireman and saved an 8-7 win for Tri-City over Wenatche. Dobernic took over from Don Robertson in the eighth and used only five pitched balls to end the game.

Prior Masters Caps

Pitches, Bats Tyees to Win; Fan Night Set

Victoria 4, Vancouver 3

They're going to give away 100 prizes at Athletic Park tonight in an attempt to entice paying customers into the WIL ball lot, but really it shouldn't be necessary.

For Thursday night Bill Prior and the Tyees, matched against Vancouver Caps, crammed enough baseball into nine innings to convince even the most critical of the skeptics.

The net result after the two clubs matched stratagem and science down to the final stinging single by Prior, was a pulsating 4-3 victory for the Tyees.

Prior was the fair-haired laddie for the ladies' night crowd approximating 2,000. He allowed the Caps only seven hits, was at his best in the clutch in the latter innings as the Caps threatened to prevent him from winning his 13th game of the year, and drove in Chuck Abernathy with the tie-breaking run in the bottom of the ninth.

STOREY HOMERS

A two-run homer by Cap manager Harvey Storey in the fifth was the only damaging blow, the third Vancouver run coming on an error by Tyee third baseman Don Pries in the eighth.

Tyees took the lead in the fifth inning without benefit of a base hit. Lu Brannham walked, as did Jim Clark. Brannham went to third on an infield out and scored as Pries forced Cec Garriott at second.

BRANHAM, PRIES AGAIN

Trailing 2-1 as a result of Storey's line drive home run, the Tyees tied the count in the bottom of the fifth. Again Brannham and Pries combined their talents. Brannham doubled, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Pries' single. A walk to Garriott, a sacrifice hit, a wild pitch by Lonnie Myers and Dwane Helbig's ground ball to short produced the Tyees' third run in the seventh.

A threatening Vancouver rally died in the ninth as Storey was purposely walked after Jack Buckowitz reached second, and Gene Petrall obligingly grounded into the double-play set-up.

The Caps, too, were in trouble in the latter innings, and intentional walks were the rule in the Tyee seventh, eighth and ninth. Prior, however, ruled the percentage with his climactic blow. A foul tip on the previous pitch, which if held by catcher Jim Leavitt would have retired the side, was dropped, and Prior, granted this reprieve, acquitted himself nobly.

ALL GRAVY

Tonight, a really big night for the Tyees financially, the festivities will start at 8. All proceeds from the game will be retained by the Victoria team through the courtesy of the Caps, who normally would receive 40 per cent.

In addition, Bill Bottler, who has allowed but four runs in his last three starts, and was the tough luck loser in Monday's 1-0 Cap victory, will go to the hill for the Tyees.

Earl Dollins will pitch the Saturday afternoon game as the teams wind up their series with a split double bill at 2:30 and 8.

OAK BAY CRICKET

Oak Bay Cricket Club line-up for Saturday's match with Incocks at Windsor Park at 2:30 follows: Bristowe, Colquhoun, Stewart, McIlvenny, Thornton, Smith, K. Wright, Kay, Odgers, Sparks, Doidge.

Learning How the Pros Do It

Athletic Park, home of the Victoria Tyees, had a rugged workout Thursday and today as youngsters from all parts of the Island flocked to the free baseball school conducted by the Tyees. Here Tyee shortstop Jim Clark (centre), supervises as two of his students, John Lewis (left) and Bobby Brooks, both of Chemainus, demonstrate their double-play pivot. Harvey Storey, Vancouver manager, was scheduled to be a teacher today as the school held its last class. (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Ranking Players Move Into B.C. Tennis Semis

Finalists in all events were to be named today in the B.C. lawn tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

In the men's singles, second-seeded Art Jeffrey of Vancouver, and third-seeded Jim Demas, San Francisco, joined Lawrence Barclay and Stan Hack in the semifinals. Jeffrey shuttled Bob Seymour of Mill Valley to the sidelines in one of Thursday's two quarter-final matches. Like Barclay the day before, Jeffrey had no easy time, and it was only with the best of concentration that he eventually prevailed in two close sets, 8-6, 7-5.

Demas lowered the boom on city champ Ted Smythe, 6-0, 6-2, in 40 minutes of play. In fairness to Smythe, he hardly did his usual game justice. Nevertheless Demas played magnificently, and fully earned his right to play Jeffrey over a best-of-five set route today. Barclay was scheduled against Hack.

RANKINGS HOLD UP

In the ladies' singles, seedings were preserved. Top-seeded Janet Hopps, Seattle, eliminated Victorian Sheila Kington, 6-0, 6-1, and now will meet fourth-seeded Lois Reid, Vancouver. Meanwhile, third-seeded Liz Loeck, Mill Valley, triumphed over Diana Knowles of Victoria, by the same score and will meet second-favored Barbara Lum of Portland.

In the men's doubles a minor upset occurred when fourth-seeded Smythe and Jack Butt lost to Lloyd Finney of Seattle and Bill Millikan of Madigan Army Hospital, Tacoma. With Smythe still playing somewhat indifferently the localites went down 7-5, 6-4.

Tennis Draw

Late draw in today's B.C. tennis championships at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club follows:

1:30 p.m.—Semi-finals, men's doubles: Livingstone and Demas vs. Millikan and Finney; Hack and Loeck vs. Barclay and Jeffrey; Miss M. Bray vs. Mrs. G. Dawson (flights).
4:30 p.m.—Semi-finals mixed doubles: Miss Reid and Demas vs. winner of Lum and Gillett vs. Staples and Jeffrey; Miss Hopps and Leintons vs. Mrs. Loeck and Seymour; Mrs. Crane vs. Miss Finley (flights); Mrs. Houston vs. Miss Hill (flights); W. Millikan vs. winner of Barclay and Jeffrey vs. winner of Richardson and Welch vs. Shepherd and Verley; Hoff and Kalnin vs. Reed and Catton.

Jo-Jo White Scouts Myers for Cleveland

An interested spectator at Thursday night's WIL game at Athletic Park between the Tyees and Vancouver Capilanos was Jo-Jo White.

The former major league star and more recently manager of Seattle Rainiers, attended in his official capacity of a Cleveland scout.

Specifically, White was here to judge the major league possibilities of pitcher Lonnie Myers of the Caps.

Myers was relieved for a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning after allowing the Tyees six hits and three runs.

White could not be reached for comment following the

MILLIGAN GETS GOAL AS ROYALS WIN EASILY

EDMONTON (CP)—New Westminster Royals walloped Edmonton Legion 10-0 Thursday night in the second game of a two-game, total-points inter-provincial soccer series. Royals won the opener 5-0 Wednesday night to take the series 15-0.

Royals now travel to Winnipeg to meet Winnipeg Scottish in the Western Canada final.

A crowd of about 200 saw inside right Alex Henderson score four goals for Royals. Centre forward Dave Guthrie and outside right Errol Crossan got two each and the others were divided among Milligan of Victoria and Dave Spry.

Worsham Leads Pack In Tam World Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Lew Worsham today was roaring for revenge in golf's richest tournament, the $75,000 "world" pro meet at Tam O'Shanter course.

Worsham carved a seven-under-par 63 Thursday for a two-stroke first-round lead in the tournament which last year he had in his hip pocket until the final six holes.

The 35-year-old Worsham, 1947 U.S. Open champion, was a bitter, forgotten man in the 1952 "world" after he led by four strokes but then blew in the stretch to wind up in a tie for seventh place.

Chasing Worsham in today's second round of the 72-hole medal play quest for the $25,000 first prize was Ted Kroll, who Thursday tamed Tam O'Shanter's par-72, 6,915-yard layout for a 67.

After Worsham and Kroll, the traffic was terrific with seven players knotted at 68 and eight tied at 69.

Tam was an easy target be-

Ontario Holds 15-Stroke Lead

LONDON (CP)—Ontario took a 15-stroke lead in inter-provincial team matches played in conjunction with the Canadian women's close golf championships at the Sunningdale Country Club here Thursday.

The Ontario team posted a gross score of 320 in the open in 18 holes of the 36-hole competition against 335 for runner-up Manitoba. British Columbia and Saskatchewan tied for third place with 339 each. Alberta and Quebec followed with 344 each and the Maritimes were last with 367.

Victorians Named To New Positions In Naval Service

CAPT. WELLAND

INST. CAPT. ELLIS

CMDR. PRATT

Naval headquarters today announced changes in the appointments of three senior officers, two of them well known in Victoria. The officers are: Instructor-Capt. Martin H. Ellis, 52, of Victoria and Ottawa; Capt. Robert P. Welland of Victoria and Halifax; and Cmdr. James C. Pratt of Windsor and Ottawa. Cmdr. Pratt, director of naval intelligence at Ottawa, will become executive officer HMCS Shearwater, Dartmouth. He will be succeeded by Inst. Capt. Ellis, who is now director of naval training. Capt. Welland will succeed Capt. Ellis. Appointments are effective immediately.

U.S.N. Patrol Craft Here for Week-End

The United States naval patrol craft 1254 will visit Victoria this week-end. The ship, under command of Lieut. G. L. Campbell, U.S.N., is on a reserve training cruise and is scheduled to dock at HMC Dockyard in Esquimalt at 5 p.m. Saturday. The vessel carries a complement of six officers and 40 enlisted men. She will leave here Monday morning.

Chant Blames Socialism on Liberal Party

Canada's defense budget would build a trans-Canada highway six times over, Victoria Secord M.L.A. William Chant, said at View Royal Thursday night.

Speaking to an audience of nine in support of federal candidate James Roberts, Mr. Chant stated:

"We could pave the 4,000 miles from here to Halifax for $100,000 a mile, a total of $400,000,000 which is only a fraction of the $2,500,000,000 defense budget," he declared.

SOCIALISM THE ISSUE

Main issues of the federal campaign boil down to a war between Socialism and Social Credit, Mr. Chant stated.

But he did not hold the CCF or the LPP as responsible for the fact that Socialism is overrunning the country.

"The Liberals have let them in the back door by creating the conditions that breed Socialism," he charged.

CANDIDATE BRIEF

Candidate James Roberts spoke briefly and generally, except for a reference to the late Prime Minister McKenzie King.

He charged that Mr. King had promoted Secord ideas in 1935 when he allegedly said, "Canada is faced with a battle between money power and power of the people."

"King pleaded for a Liberal majority to carry out control of currency and credit," said Mr. Roberts.

Lone Lumber Firm Still Holding Out On Wage Revision

All but one lumber operation in the Victoria area have now agreed to settle their wage dispute with the IWA, on terms set forth by a conciliation board and accepted earlier by the majority of coast operators, a union spokesman said today.

Only firm which has not agreed to sign on this basis is Horton Cedar Manufacturing Co. Ltd., where a jurisdictional dispute has developed.

A government-supervised vote is being conducted in that plant today to determine what union employees wish to represent them.

The IWA's right to bargaining authority has been challenged by the shingle workers' local of the Carpenters and Joiners Union. The IWA is a CCL affiliate and the carpenters' union part of the TLC.

About 30 men are affected in shingle mill.

PM's SON BETS $500 LIBERALS WIN IN ALTA.

VANCOUVER (CP).—Jean-Paul St. Laurent, son of the prime minister, has been taken up on a $500 bet that the Liberals will take more Alberta seats than Social Credit in the August 10 federal election.

Robert H. Little, a Vancouver contractor, put up his money Thursday and Mr. St. Laurent, reached by telephone at Legal, Alta., said "fine, the bet is on."

The prime minister's son made the wager Wednesday while campaigning here.

Police Thwart Hold-Up Plan; 11 Arrested

TORONTO (BUP)—A gang of ex-convicts trained for weeks to grab General Motors' million-dollar holiday payroll last week, but police thwarted their plans two days before the hold-up was scheduled, officers said today.

Officers arrested 11 persons, including three women, last week and nabbed two more last night.

Police said the mob had planned to rob the Royal Bank at the main intersection in Oshawa of the General Motors payroll last Friday, just before the 11,000 workers were to collect their two weeks holiday pay.

"We would have made the Boyd Gang look sick," one of the gang was reported to have told police.

Sgt. Jim Morgan, head of the newly-formed police hold-up squad, said seven men, six armed with revolvers and the seventh with a Sten gun, were going to rob the Oshawa bank. Each man had practiced his duties police said, and had staged four other robberies as trial runs.

PCs, Secreds Distort Truth Faurey Charges

A charge that the Conservative and Social Credit parties are distorting the truth and facts with regard to government expenditures, was made by Frank T. Faurey, Liberal candidate for Victoria, at a meeting held in Victoria West Community Hall Thursday.

"The only real extravagance is the extravagant way in which these unsupported charges are made, and the deliberately misleading statements which accompany them," Dr. Faurey said. "They are worse than lies."

He pointed out as an example a charge made by the Conservatives that the government had bought enough carpets to cover six miles of Toronto streets.

A YARD PER MAN

"They were bought for the armed services for use in barracks and the like," he said. The quantity amounts to a square yard of carpet per man serving in the armed forces.

"Surely a man is entitled to a square yard of carpet to walk on," he said.

Dr. Faurey said he also took objection to a charge made by the Conservatives that the Department of National Defense spend $362 an hour on telephone calls and telegrams.

"What the Conservatives have done is to divide the amounts spent on all communications services by the number of hours in the year and then they say that this sum is spent on telephone calls and telegrams," he said.

Dr. Faurey said that more than two-thirds of this expenditure is on construction and maintenance of communications services for the 1,400 units of the armed forces operating on six different countries and in widely separated parts of Canada.

INCOME TAX CUT

Referring to income taxes, Dr. Faurey said the government had reduced the income tax to the pre-Korean war level despite high expenditures for the maintenance of armed forces overseas.

Earlier, William Straith, former minister of education, spoke on behalf of Dr. Faurey.

JILL BASSETT

UBC Scholarship For Jill Bassett Of Oak Bay High

A $250 University of British Columbia Alumni Association scholarship has been awarded to Marilyn Jill Bassett, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bassett, 877 Newport Avenue.

She was one of 10 B.C. high school graduates to receive the awards which are presented on a regional basis and are based on records of the students for the full four years of high school.

Miss Bassett attended Grade 12 at Oak Bay High last year and plans to enroll at Victoria College in September. Henry Emerson McCandless of Port Alberni was awarded a similar scholarship.

Head-On Collision Kills Two in Ont.

LINDSAY, Ont. (BUP)—Two persons were killed and three others injured in a two-car crash near here Thursday night.

The dead were Newton Armstrong, 65, of Pontypool, and Nellie Watson, 50, Kirkland Lake.

Fern Gallagher, 35, Ottawa, was taken to Peterborough General Hospital with severe shock and facial injuries. Two sons of the dead man, Garnet Armstrong and Everett Armstrong, were taken to Ross Memorial Hospital at Lindsay.

The two cars met head-on on the highway near Reabro.

Crowds to See Pipeline Laid Under Straits

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—The longest underwater link of a crude oil pipeline stretching across half of North America is scheduled to be laid under the Straits of Mackinac, 60 miles south of here, on Saturday.

The project is expected to draw thousands of spectators including engineers and government officials of both Canada and the United States.

The basic plan calls for a derrick to pull a two-inch wire cable across the 3 1/4-mile stretch of water. The cable will be attached to the first 2,500-foot length of twin 20-inch pipes and then hauled back towards the southern shore. As each section leaves the upper peninsula shoreline the next length will be attached to it.

To overcome the weight of the pipe, 166 pounds a foot, a series of pontoons filled with compressed air will saddle the pipe at 80-foot intervals. Engineers are prepared to make immediate changes in tactics if any hitches develop.

Project manager Joseph Troxell estimates the job will take about 54 hours. The underwater section will be composed of the twin 20-inch pipes, and they will be joined to a single 30-inch pipe at the other shore.

When completed the entire project—from Superior, Wis., to Sarnia—will have cost $76,000,000. It will link with the $900,000,000 pipeline from Edmonton to Superior built in 1950.

JEWISH COMMUNITY DONATES $100 TO CATHEDRAL FUND

Christ Church Cathedral completion fund now stands at $103,641, a month-end statement by organizing secretary Maurice Hesford showed today.

The sum is almost equally divided between cash and pledges. About $1,000 has been contributed by visitors.

Among Victoria contributions is $100 from the local Jewish community, in the name of Emmanuel Temple.

CAMPNEY DEFENDS LIBERAL POLICY

Associate Minister of National Defense, Hon. Ralph Campney, stoutly defended his department in a radio broadcast Thursday night.

"In defense matters, as in every other phase of Canadian life, your Liberal National Government has met the challenge," the minister declared. "It has accepted its responsibility. It has turned in a magnificent record of performance—a record of achievement unsurpassed by any other country in the world."

Mr. Campney attacked opposition leader Mr. Drew, for playing politics with the important matter of defense.

"In parliament they hinted at this and hinted at that and asked that a special committee be set up to investigate defense expenditures. They got their committee," Mr. Campney said. "It sat through two sessions and was given the widest latitude."

"Not a single allegation of graft, scandal or misdoing was made, not a single charge laid during the hearings of this committee," Mr. Campney declared.

CHARGES BROADCAST

"Now they are going about the country making charges of fantastic extravagance and waste against the department," he charged.

He claimed the opposition parties were attempting to separate the civil administration side of the department from the service side.

"This represents only a cheap attempt to pay lip service to our active forces," he charged. "You

Emergency Centre Aim Of CD Authority Here

A centre equipped to deal with any civilian emergency by September is the aim of Victoria Civil Defense, target area director L. G. Hatcher announced Thursday.

A disaster hospital staffed completely by volunteers from city medical personnel and special trained workers that would be able to handle hundreds of casualties is classed as a vital need by Mr. Hatcher.

He said a building has been earmarked.

"Apart from CD emergencies, we should be ready to handle any major accidents," he said.

"The hospitals here couldn't handle hundreds of casualties at once if a ship blew up, for instance; they are full now."

Hospital equipment, so complete that even operations could be performed in the disaster station, is in Victoria now, he stated, and there are enough doctors available. But nurses' aides are badly needed.

Only ten women have completed the CD nurses' aide training with a few more engaged in

Fall Session Members Invited to Dance Club

New couples may join the Jeans 'n' Bonnets dance club, for the fall session, the club announces. The group will meet every second and fourth Friday beginning August 14 in the Lake Hill Hall.

Caller-instructor John Mooney has a broad program outlined. He and Mrs. Mooney will attend a square dance school in California previous to the fall session to learn new dances and techniques.

GOING BACK

NEW YORK (UP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, will return to that war-ravaged country this month to aid in its rehabilitation.

The American-Korean foundation announced today Van Fleet would be among a group of "experts" forming the second mission to Korea sponsored by the foundation.

Pearkes Scores Liberal Policy On Defense Plan

Failure of Canada's 27th Infantry Brigade in Europe is "a direct result of Liberal policy," Maj.-Gen. George R. Pearkes told 34 people in Cadboro Bay Scout Hall Thursday night.

In a fighting last speech in his Esquimalt-Saanich riding prior to Monday's election, the Progressive Conservative candidate quoted a recent article in Maclean's magazine which termed the brigade "second-rate," with low morale and insufficient discipline.

"Eighteen months ago, after a trip to Europe, I pointed out the extravagance for Canada to send an infantry brigade to the heart of Europe, where there are hundreds of thousands of young Europeans," the general said.

QUICK CUT-BACK

"After the war they cut defence forces to such a low level there was literally nothing on which to build," he said. "They let the cream of our experienced men go—the senior non-commissioned officers, warrant officers..."

"They demobilized our camps and sold at bargain prices much of our equipment, which a few months later had to be bought back at full market value."

Defence forces could not meet a sudden emergency after the war, he said. Cream of the men went to Korea, he added.

Educational standards were lowered, the general said.

"According to the article in Maclean's, the 27th brigade consists of men the majority of whom have not passed beyond grade five or six many being illiterate, but they are sent as your ambassadors to western Europe."

He blamed the government for a "breakdown in regimental spirit" with its formation of "improvised units."

DANGEROUS DRIFT

Fear that if Canada re-elects a Liberal government at Ottawa for another four years the country will "drift along the road of one-party government and a form of dictatorship," was expressed by General Pearkes.

"That is a very dangerous road for Canada to travel," he said.

The general belabored the Liberals for their "negative" approach and "it cannot be done" attitude.

"You are told they are indispensable but as for doing anything, it can't be done," he said referring to PC proposals for cutting taxes, eliminating waste and restoring UK markets.

Discussing the number of candidates fielded by PCs, Liberals, CCF, L.P. and Social Credit, the general contended, "If we're to have stable government in future it must be either Liberal or Conservative."

A. deB. Phillips and W. H. M. Haldane, QC spoke in support of Gen. Pearkes. The latter made reference to the Liberal candidate, Duncan MacBride, retired county sheriff.

"You know the old saying about keeping one step ahead of the sheriff," suggested Gen. Pearkes in many steps ahead of this ex-sheriff."

F. B. F. Nicholson, chairman, gave the general the "briefest" introduction of the campaign.

POSSING as a drug addict, boyish-faced Gerald Howe of Port Alberni lived for two months in Vancouver's Skidrow until he had enough evidence to convict 21 narcotics offenders. Howe, a virtual "rookie" in the RCMP, was given the task by his superiors after only four days briefing. His interview with reporters, published in the Victoria Times Tuesday, was the first of its kind the force has allowed.

Princess Elaine Bumps Log Boom In Nanaimo Harbor

Ss. Princess Elaine struck a boom in Nanaimo harbor Thursday and was put into drydock in Vancouver for repairs.

Canadian Pacific Steamships officials, announcing the mishap, said no one was injured but that the ship's Gulf Islands Thursday sailings were cancelled.

The accident is believed to have occurred while Princess Elaine was turning to avoid a grade five or six many being illiterate, but they are sent as your ambassadors to western Europe."

BLUENOSE HONORED

LUNenburg, N.S. (CP)—Latest tribute to the Bluenose, famed fishing schooner, came from Josiah Wedgwood and Sons of England, who are featuring the vessel among their ships on sets of dishes. One of the first sets was presented here to Capt. Angus Walters, former skipper of the Bluenose which was wrecked in the West Indies.

WHO REALLY FIGHTS FOR B.C.?

THE FIGHTERS

Your three Progressive Conservative members of the last Parliament—HOWARD GREEN, M.P. (Vancouver Quadra), E. DAVIE FULTON, M.P. (Kamloops) and Maj.-Gen. GEORGE PEARKE, V.C., M.P. (then Nanaimo, now Esquimalt-Saanich) persistently and courageously led the fight to bring oil and natural gas pipelines from Alberta through British Columbia to Vancouver.

LIBERALS OPPOSE

In 1949 and 1950, the Liberal Government favoured incorporation of pipeline companies proposing to pipe natural gas and oil from Alberta into IDAHO, WASHINGTON and OREGON FIRST—WITH ONLY A SMALL STUB LINE BACK INTO BRITISH COLUMBIA at Vancouver, U.S.A. communities were to be served first and most of B.C. deprived of Canadian natural gas and oil.

THE BATTLE

HOWARD GREEN, DAVIE FULTON and GEORGE PEARKE were determined to stop this OUTRIGHT LIBERAL BETRAYAL of British Columbia. They were forced to conduct the longest filibuster ever waged in Parliament to prevent the passage of these "all-American-route" bills. ONLY ONE B.C. LIBERAL M.P. (George Cruickshank) supported these Conservative M.P.'s. Not one of the Alberta Social Credit M.P.'s supported this fight for the B.C. route.

M.P.'s CONDEMNED

Even Liberal supporters were shocked by this outrageous Liberal betrayal. A Vancouver newspaper (The Vancouver "Sun") on March 18, 1950, carried this news report:

"FOUR LIBERAL M.P.'S ATTACKED FOR STAND"

Four Liberal M.P.'s from this area have drawn the censure of Division Four, Vancouver East Liberal Association, "FOR WORKING AGAINST THE BEST INTERESTS OF B.C."

"The division directed its criticism against RALPH CAMPNEY Vancouver Centre; TOM GOODE, Burnaby Richmond; WILLIAM MOTT, New Westminster and J. L. MacDOUGALL, Vancouver Burrard, for 'talking in favour of the natural gas pipeline going through the U.S. before going into Vancouver'."

THE RESULTS

As a result of this determined fight, begun entirely by B.C. Progressive Conservative M.P.'s and backed to the hilt by George Drew, the Liberal Government finally gave way. An oil pipeline is now being built through B.C. at a cost of $92 MILLION DOLLARS. A natural gas pipeline through B.C. is awaiting approval at a cost of a further $111 MILLION DOLLARS.

This forthright devotion of Conservative M.P.'s to the interests of the people of B.C. DESPITE THE INGENUOUS OPPOSITION OF B.C. LIBERALS, has brought to this province new gas and oil pipelines WORTH $245 MILLION DOLLARS TO DATE.

New secondary industries will now follow. Cheap fuel for homeowners and industry, new jobs and payrolls are now assured for thousands of our people.

THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE PARTY OF CANADA IS PLEDGED TO CARRY OUT THIS POLICY OF USING CANADIAN RESOURCES TO DEVELOP CANADA FOR CANADIANS FIRST. B.C. NEEDS MORE FIGHTING CONSERVATIVE M.P.'s AT OTTAWA.

Money on Recreation for Armed Forces Justified Says Liberal

Money spent by the national defense department on recreation for the armed forces is well spent—even if the Conservatives do call it extravagance. Esquimalt-Saanich Liberal candidate Duncan MacBride said at a Colwood meeting Thursday night.

"It's the country's duty to see that the serviceman has, where possible, all the amenities of those at home," Mr. MacBride told the 10 persons present. "In fact, he's probably entitled to more because he may be called on to sacrifice his life."

The candidate said recreation facilities must be adequate if Canada is to build its forces on a volunteer basis.

"The Conservatives' criticism of the government for making the serviceman comfortable is unpatriotic in my opinion," Mr. MacBride said.

The speaker said "unity, progress and security" are the watchwords of Liberalism. "Performance, not promises, is what Liberals stand for," he stated.

He scoffed at the PC's promise to cut taxes $500,000,000. Mr. MacBride said 15 other Tory promises, in connection with projects they said they'd undertake if elected, would cost a total of $1,500,000,000.

Mr. MacBride realized defense expenditures are high, but explained that modern fighting equipment must be purchased by the government.

"When equipment is improved by science, then the equipment

TAX NOTICES TO FEDERAL TENANTS

City of Victoria sent out tax notices for the first time in 10 years to two business firms occupying ground-floor premises in the federally owned Belmont Building.

Crown property is tax exempt but the city contends that where it is leased for commercial purposes, the property becomes subject to civic taxation. Notices were sent out in the amount of $461 and $186, with payment due Sept. 30.

Capitalism Plans Only in Wartime—McIntosh

Capitalism consistently fails to provide full employment in peace time, Esquimalt-Saanich CCF candidate Robert McIntosh said at a Prospect Lake house meeting Thursday night.

"During the war overall planning ensured the most effective use of manpower—every man and woman in Canada was given a place in the national economy."

"In peace, capitalism refuses to plan for the welfare of the people as a whole. As a result unemployment mounts," the candidate said.

Wages are the purchasing power of the people and any unemployment curtails them, reduces the buying power and threatens depression and further spreads unemployment, Mr. McIntosh said.

"The individual unemployed is poorer, and his dependents suffer, the whole nation is poorer and less secure because so many hands are idle and unproductive," the candidate contended.

The speaker said capitalism cannot plan for national needs or world requirements "because its horizon is limited by the need for monetary profit."

"Capitalism can plan only within the straitjacket of the private profit system," he stated.

Gas was discovered in Ontario in the 1880s and exported to the northern United States.

ONLY THE LIBERALS CAN FORM A GOVERNMENT

Liberal Victory Forecast

From Sun Nanaimo Bureau NANAIMO, Aug. 3.—Liberals will again rule the roost in Ottawa after August 10 but will be faced with tougher CCF opposition.

This in effect was the indirect appraisal of national CCF leader M. J. Coldwell at a record political rally here Saturday for Colin Cameron, party candidate in Nanaimo riding.

It is based on a political equation. For, Coldwell said, the Progressive-Conservative Party is making no progress across Canada in its campaign to form the next government.

He feels it may gain a few seats in western Ontario but will lose such gains elsewhere.

His remark followed an election talk in which he said the would either be in

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

One of the perils of living in a seaside community at this time of the year is the danger of being exposed to pictures of dead fish.

Every newspaper in the area devotes an unwarranted amount of space to pictures of dead fish.

There must be prettier objects, such as Marilyn Monroe, which could be pictured in the paper.

Even a live fish leaves something to be desired as an object of beauty. There is, I admit, a classic simplicity of line to a fish's profile; but the liveliest of live fish still falls short of dynamic beauty.

And when a fish poses for its portrait after it is dead, the result fails to stir me to aesthetic ecstasies.

The reason these pictures of dead fish get into the papers is because the gentlemen or ladies who aided in their demise are very proud of their prowess.

They no doubt have good reason for pride, and I say, bully for them.

But the only thing to do with a dead fish is to hustle it into the decent privacy of oven, frying pan or chowder pot as quickly as possible.

A dead fish's place is in the kitchen, not the newspapers.

The sport of fishing, which is great fun for all who participate, with the possible exception of the fish, is among the most ancient of human activities.

However, it is not clear at what stage in the development of man it progressed from an occupation designed to provide food to a recreational activity.

I have a sneaking suspicion some hen-pecked stoner discovered he could get away from his wife when he went fishing with the boys.

This simple fact was enough to ensure the popularity of the pastime throughout the ages.

One thing I admire about fishermen, they seem to enjoy fishing whether or not they catch fish.

A true fisherman, I am convinced, could have a whale of a time dangling his line in the Crystal pool.

In fact, I rather suspect the actual act of landing a fish is something of an anti-climax.

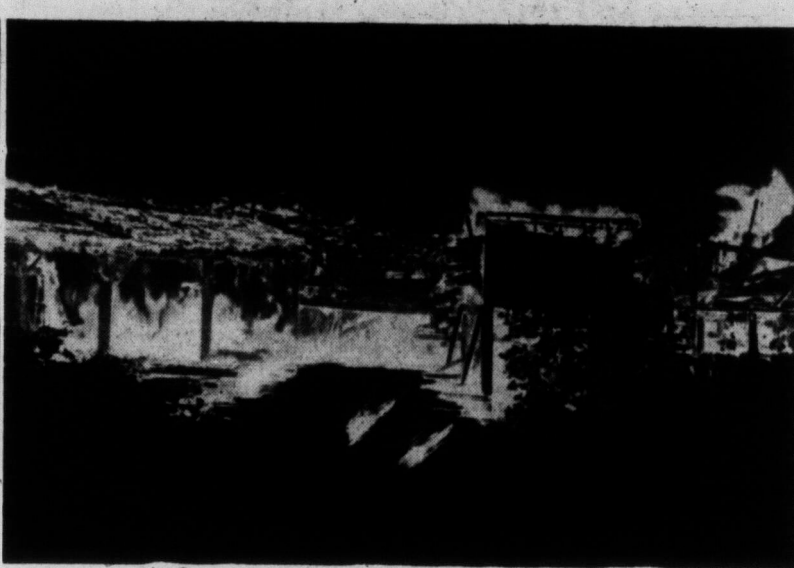

An unseen fish lurking somewhere (you hope) beneath the rippling water is certainly much more beautiful than a dead fish lying on the beach.

As you may have gathered, I can get along without dead fish unless tastefully prepared for the table.

And I can especially get along without pictures of dead fish in the paper.

Speaking of fishing—did you read about the Indians who landed the 102-pound spring salmon?

For the first time in history, these anglers did NOT say: "But you should have seen the one that got away."

Fire Destroys $250,000 Duncan Mill

Flames early today swept through Robert Evans' Duncan mill, above, leaving a quarter-million-dollar plant and $10,000 worth of lumber a total loss. North Cowichan Road crews fought for hours to save the Evans' home and oil storage tanks close to the mill. They were hampered by water shortage. (Times Photo.)

East Indian Duncan Hotel Fire Victim

Lumberman From Langford Dies

B. John, 60-year-old East Indian whose residence was at Langford, died early today when he was suffocated in a hotel room fire at Duncan.

John, a lumber operator, was a well-known figure on the island.

John, whose other name was Dhana Singh, was staying at the Midway Hotel.

Chowhan Yock was the first person to discover the fire. He was returning to the hotel from breakfast and saw smoke pouring out of John's bedroom.

Police and the Duncan volunteer fire department were called and found the East Indian lying in his bed fully dressed. An inhalator crew worked on the man without success.

The fire was restricted to John's room but completely burned everything except a dressing table. Cause of the blaze has not yet been determined although police said it could have started through a cigarette lighting the mattress.

James Richard Ross, 466 Thetis Crescent, pleaded guilty to a careless driving charge in city police court Thursday afternoon. He was fined $40. The charge resulted from an accident on Burnside Road, July 30.

Work was to be completed this afternoon. King Bros. Ltd. are agents.

Headed by Mrs. E. M. Fraser, president, a delegation of the Island Council attended the monthly meeting of the Old Age Pensioners' Organization here this week. Mrs. Fraser, who is first vice-president of the Port Alberni branch, reported on the care of members under charge of the Welfare Board. Members expressed thanks for hospitality enjoyed at Sunshine Camp.

Driving on Douglas Street at a speed over 50 miles per hour on July 29 resulted in fine of $35 for Eric L. Budden, 840 Craigflower. He appeared in Saanich police court Thursday.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Victoria returning officer Sydney Child is ready to issue ballot boxes to deputy returning officers for Monday's federal election.

Mr. Child said DRO's can pick up the boxes at 1211 Broad Street, and should do so as soon as possible, so they can make final arrangements in plenty of time.

Fourth child to be admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in recent weeks with bee stings is Linda Heaslip, nine, of Glen Lake.

She stepped on a single bee. The sting was so severe that the little girl's foot and leg were both badly swollen and her temperature up. She remains in the children's ward for observation.

Four cars were damaged in accidents in the city within six minutes of each other Thursday night.

Police said there was a collision between cars driven by J. R. Brandon, 3831 Cedar Hill Cross Road, and Walter B. Holmes, 1037 Summit, at Quadra and Topaz at 7 p.m. Six minutes later police attended a Colinson-Cook crash where a car driven by John B. Pickburn, 3255 Rutledge, hit a parked car owned by R. D. Cowley, 520 Cook. Police classified damage as medium to all cars involved.

Have you been arguing about the outcome of the Aug. 10 federal election?

If so, you'll find statistical background a comfortable cushion on which to base a sound argument—and make you appear like an authority on Canada's political history.

Predictions are usually colored by personal feelings, but the value of statistics to the prognosticator cannot be minimized.

Thus the accompanying table has been prepared to show results in past federal elections in the five major geographical divisions of Canada.

Study it, and you'll be able to keep your end up in any argument about the forthcoming federal vote. Here's an analysis by divisions:

British Columbia and Yukon: The Liberals have rolled up their best record in B.C. in comparatively recent times. In the earlier days, the Conservatives had a decided edge.

Sir John A. MacDonald brought B.C. into Confederation in 1871 and the province didn't elect a single Liberal until after his death.

In all, the Tories have carried B.C. 15 times to the Liberals' five, and have split one.

The CCF made its best showing in 1945, electing five members in B.C. Social Credit hasn't yet elected a B.C. federal member. How the Tories will do federally after their provincial victory two months ago, will be one of the most interesting aspects of the coming vote.

Mr. Moir, now 25, is a graduate of Oak Bay High, as well as the college and is well known here. He became a UBC faculty member at 22.

Before leaving late in August he will also attend a Canadian Pharmaceutical Association convention in Winnipeg in company with Jubilee Hospital pharmacist Charles Burr.

MARRIED MANY, NOW HE'LL WED, BUT WITH FULL CHURCH RITUAL

A civil marriage may be okay for some people—but it won't do for a man who has performed scores of such ceremonies.

The wedding of John Doughty, B.C.'s director of vital statistics and a marriage commissioner, to Pamela Hartman Saturday morning will take place in the Church of Our Lord.

His colleagues have lodged mock complaints with Mr. Doughty, claiming he is "snubbing" his associates.

Blueprint for Future Offered City Fathers

BY AILEEN CAMPBELL

A proposed new zoning by-law and map aimed at providing "a sane and workable blueprint for the orderly development of Victoria" during the next 20 years, was presented to Mayor Claude Harrison and aldermen today.

If ratified by City Council, the by-law, through its off-street parking proposals, will ease the city's parking problems of the future considerably.

New apartment blocks will have to provide one parking unit for each dwelling unit. A sore point with traffic authorities in the past few years has been erection of 30-40 suite apartments with only six or eight garages or parking spaces.

Theatres, churches, schools and auditoriums, as well as business houses constructed in the future will have to make adequate provision for off-street parking.

29-YEAR-OLD BY-LAW If ratified by the City Council the 44-page by-law will replace the city's present 29-year-old by-law which the 1950 council felt needed consolidation and modernization.

Work has been progressing since May of 1950 on the new by-law under the Town Planning Commission.

Major H. Cuthbert Holmes, TPC chairman and Hugh R. Steven, vice-chairman, requested a meeting with City Council in September.

"Meantime may we ask that in reviewing our work you withhold judgment on any particular issues until we have had an opportunity of meeting with you," wrote Major Holmes in a covering letter.

The by-law proposes an "auto court district" where there shall be at least two habitable rooms and a bathroom for each dwelling unit with a combined floor area of at least 300 square feet.

The district borders Selkirk Waters from the CNR track to Irma Street and up to Gorge Road. A portion north of Gorge, between the CNR, Washington Avenue and Cecilia Road is also zoned for courts.

In order to cut down traffic hazard and aid visibility for motorists at corners, the fence or shrubbery on any corner lot for a distance of 20 feet either side may not be more than three feet high.

Two or three houses would be permitted on odd-shaped lots under special regulations.

Housekeeping rooms will be subject to specific public health regulations and the city building by-law. Regular reports will be called for.

LIGHT INDUSTRY ZONE A limited light industrial zone is proposed to replace the present garage zone. Heaviest concentration in this zone is between Blanshard and Douglas, Queens and Herald. Johnson View from Blanshard to just past Cook is also in this listing.

These districts are newly created to serve specific neighborhoods. Another is permitted on Douglas from Belmont to Broughton.

In future no houses other than those for watchmen would be permitted in industrial areas. This move is aimed at leaving industrial sites ready and open for new business, and eliminating high cost of buying improved land for industrial purposes.

King won all 65 seats for the Liberals. Prime Minister St. Laurent in 1949 allowed only six to elude him. And four of these were independents who were Liberals to all intents and purposes. The Tories won only two seats.

New Case of Polio From Belmont Park

14th Victim in Navy Housing Area; Saanich Woman 29th Stricken Here

Two more polio cases here were reported today. Victims are a 2½-year-old girl from the Belmont naval housing subdivision and a 40-year-old Saanich woman.

Total for Belmont now stands at 14 and for the Greater Victoria area and south Vancouver Island the over-all total is 29.

Here is the breakdown to date: Victoria 4, Esquimalt 3, Saanich 9 (not including Belmont and Oak Bay none).

AGE SEEMS ANSWER

Only answer as to why there is a concentration of cases at Belmont is that "it's a young population," with most of its approximately 2,000 inhabitants under 30, one medical health officer explained.

Health officials do not know if the young are more susceptible or not.

"It used to be called infantile paralysis, but the age is creeping up," they said.

"It has nothing to do with sewage, water or sources of supply of milk, fruit and fresh vegetables—these have all been investigated," they said.

It was reported that cases giving most concern had been "fully investigated as to sewage and garbage disposal, drainage, flies and other pests, and the sources of milk, water and fresh vegetables coming into the area."

MOVEMENTS RESTRICTED "The activity and movement of immediate contacts are being restricted," it was stated.

All Belmont cases from the outbreak May 4 up to the present have been reviewed.

"For every recognized case there are 100 unrecognized cases because of the similarity of symptoms to the common cold or mild flu," health officers stated. "They have it, get over it and never know they've had it."

The two latest cases of polio are reported "very mild, with no definite paralysis."

Polio total in B.C. to date is 176, of which 35 are on Vancouver Island.

CAREFUL RESEARCH "We have pin-pointed every area where a case has been reported and pin-pointed all contacts of that area," health officials said.

In Vancouver the General Hospital appealed for married nurses and others not actively engaged in the profession to assist on a temporary basis during the next few weeks owing to the polio outbreak.

Such a situation has not arisen here, according to officials of Royal Jubilee Hospital, who report adequate nursing staff. There are 18 cases in isolation at present, of which three are in chest respirators.

Iron lungs are not in use but are available.

Ontario Cadet Royal Roads Trophy Winner The Queen's Canadian Dirk for the best all-round cadet completing his professional training period at United Services College will be presented at Royal Roads Saturday to Cadet S. E. Van Sickle of Weller Park, Ont.

Cadet Van Sickle will receive the top award at the traditionally colorful graduation ceremonies which begin at 2:30 p.m. The ceremony is open to the public.

Cadet M. G. McFenly, RCN reserve of Vancouver, is the only B.C. graduate to receive an award. He will be presented with the Department of National Defense award as best all-round UNTD cadet.

The department's second award for all-round UNTD cadet, the officer-of-the-watch telescope, will go to Cadet L. A. Verrier, Montreal. Cadet (S) G. A. Beament, RCN reserve, Orillia, Ont., will receive the Nixon memorial sword of honor as the cadet having the highest officer-like qualities on completion of his professional training.

Award of the officer-of-the-watch telescope for the cadet among those entering the RCN goes to Cadet J. O. Harwood, Aldershot, Ont.

The Stubbs memorial shield, far the outstanding cadet athlete and sportsman will be presented to Cadet J. R. Standen, Toronto.

The graduation parade of cadets will be inspected by Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Commodore James Dyer, Col. C. B. Ware, Cmdr. G. H. Hayes and Lt. Cmdr. I. B. B. Morrow.

Arrests Follow Thefts From Cars Of Tourists Here Arrest of three persons Wednesday and Thursday nights is believed by police to have cleared up several thefts from tourists' cars here during recent months.

Arrested beside a car parked on Empress Hotel driveway early Wednesday morning, Paul Danereau, 19, was fined $75 or one month in jail, in city police court today on a charge of wilful damage.

He pleaded guilty Thursday to a charge of doing wilful damage to a car from Texas.

A juvenile RCN rating found with him at the scene faces a wilful damage charge in juvenile court.

Danereau was remanded to Aug. 10 on several other charges. He is alleged to have taken two cars without the consent of the owners.

Danereau is also charged jointly with Horace Henry Warr, naval rating, with theft from cars of a portable radio and a mantle radio.

Michael Horvath was remanded to Aug. 10 on a charge of unlawfully having in his possession a radio, of over the value of $25, the property of a tourist.

since Confederation, the record shows 11 Liberal majorities, five Conservative and three elections halved.

Newfoundland, which has had only one federal election experience, elected five Liberals to two Conservatives.

The Liberals have won majorities in Nova Scotia 10 times compared to the Conservatives nine, and there have been two even splits.

New Brunswick has given the Liberals 11 majorities to eight for the Conservatives. There have been two ties.

LURE OF FLOWERS

'Glad' Expert May Settle In Victoria

H. M. Savage, a restaurant owner from Alberta who is one of Canada's leading gladioli experts, said today he is thinking seriously of settling permanently in Victoria.

Mr. Savage, who flew from Calgary to judge the "gladioli" in a three-day Victoria Gladioli Festival at the Victoria Curling Rink, said he wants to live in Victoria because he has never seen a place where flowers are so beautiful.

"For example, look at that gladiolus, 'Van-Isle,' grown and developed by George White of Happy Valley," he said. "It is known in the United States as the most beautiful 'glad' in North America."

He said Mr. White's gladiolus is rated so high E. Cove of New England, one of the big U.S. flower growers, bought all the rights to sell the bulbs. The bulbs are now selling at $2.50 apiece in the U.S.

Mr. Savage said he grows "gladioli" in Calgary as a hobby. "It relaxes me after a day's work," he said. "I grow about 5,000 blooms. Once you get the bug, you know, you are lost."

Mr. Savage said the modern gladiolus, which is doing much to publicize Victoria abroad, is a far cry from the original found in Kenya, South Africa. He pointed to an original on exhibition. It is about 12 inches high with an insignificant bloom.

ALL COLORS Now, we can grow them six feet tall and get them in all colors and shades," he said.

Mr. Savage said he will judge several other gladioli shows in Western Canada and the United States before the season is over. "I like judging," he said, "but sometime it is hard to explain to people why their blooms are not awarded a prize."

The Gladioli Festival is now in its second year. Over 1,500 visited the show Thursday. The festival also is featuring folk dancing and demonstrations in floral arrangement.

ASK THE TIMES Q.—If a girl moved to the U.S. with her parents from Canada when she was ten months old, and has been raised, educated and lived there for thirty years; also has been married to a U.S. citizen for 16 years, and has two sons born there, but is not sure if her citizenship was included when her father's was applied for, what is her status regarding U.S. citizenship? Could anyone have her deported because of not being sure of her papers?—F.E.R.

A.—The U.S. consul-general in Vancouver states that since Sept. 22, 1922, an alien woman does not acquire U.S. citizenship by marriage to a U.S. citizen. Length of residence does not automatically confer that citizenship on her. U.S. citizenship must be acquired either by naturalization as a minor, through naturalization of her alien parents, or by naturalization in her own name after reaching the age of 21 years. The consul-general is prepared to give more specific information.

Soldiers Call Her 'Miss Lucky Seven'; Theatre Costuming Brings Her Fame

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

She's 17 years old. She's tall, slim, brunette and lovely. She's the lass whose clever costume designing for Totem Theatre productions made her the subject of a feature article in Weekend Magazine last spring. She's pin-up girl, "Miss Lucky Seven" to a platoon of Vancouver lads in Korea — and now she's to be found in Victoria!

Rhoda Tinsley is her unusual name and she is one of the group of specialists who will commute between here and Vancouver now that Totem Theatre has established its home in Victoria.

As a delicate 10-year-old, Regina-born Rhoda turned the long Saskatchewan winter days into profitable fun by making stuffed dolls, dressing them and selling them for 25 cents apiece!

Now she has her feet firmly planted on the threshold of a career foreshadowed by that early hobby. She may easily wake up one day to find herself a famous costume and dress designer, for professional recognition has already come her way.

The manager of an exclusive sportswear house in Vancouver, saw the "Weekend" article, saw the young artist's originals as worn by Totem actresses, and invited her to do some designs for his firm's line of classic, tailored clothes.

CANADA-WIDE

When these designs are used they will carry her name across Canada on a label which will read "Created by Rhoda." She tells you that her mother and her art teacher at Kitsilano High School, encouraged her in her sketching and designing.

"I was ill a lot as a child," she says, "and mother was glad to have me busy. At high school, my teacher took a great interest in my work and still keeps track of me and writes me little comments on it."

Of her dolls, she says: "I used yarn for the hair and dressed them in all sorts of ways, and I made period costumes. Especially the crinoline style of the civil war—that is my favorite period."

She made a Scarlet O'Hara doll after seeing "Gone With the Wind." She has just kept one doll of all she made. The last of them sold in Vancouver about three Christmases ago for around $4 each.

"I've been too busy since then to do any more dolls," she says, smiling in the rather shy way that is part of her natural charm.

She made her first acquaintance with show business about time, when she designed costumes for the chorus of the 1951 Vancouver ice show. Later she became wardrobe mistress for Totem Theatre productions, but soon drifted into designing and making their costumes. First show she completely costumed was Noel Coward's "Present Laughter."

Taught by her mother plus one year home economics at high school, Rhoda executes her own creations. And in arena staging that doesn't mean getting away with a superficial job! Surrounded by an audience within feet of the stage, details have to be almost as carefully worked out as in regular clothes.

"Of course we don't make every dress for every show," she points out. "Only one or two principal ones." She admits to making 13 costumes for the French-Canadian comedy, "The Happy Time"—which will be seen here later on—and all the period dresses used in "The Little Foxes."

In "Gigi," which opens Totem Theatre in Victoria next week, the much talked of yellow paquin dress worn by Norma Macmillan at an important climax of the play, is one of Rhoda's creation and making. Also a grey taffeta worn by Rosemary Malkin.

"Costumes must, in the first place, do for the play what the author and director desire," explains Rhoda, when asked concerning the progress she uses to create a set of costumes.

"They should convey character, mood and atmosphere through color and line," she declares, and then explains that another school of thought believes costumes should be based on contrast and accent. Acc-

For This Evening's Bride

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Friends Honor Miss Chisholm

Miss Evelyn Usher and Miss Marnie Wilson were co-hostesses at the Cavendish Avenue home of the former with a dessert party and surprise miscellaneous shower to honor Miss Charlotte Chisholm, who is to be married on Aug. 22. Gifts were concealed in a treasure chest and presented together with a red and white carnation corsage. Mrs. H. A. Chisholm, mother of the bride-elect, received yellow carnations. The dessert course was served from a table arranged with attractive place mats and centred with a bowl of pink carnations. Mrs. C. Usher presided. Others present were Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Misses Mariel Chisholm, Ann Chamberlain, Gunhild Rosland, Erica Pepler, Martha McCarter, Shirley Pauline, Carolyn Pauline and Ann Clark.

Hostess at Bridge and Tea

Mrs. Steve Jones Sr. was hostess last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Dufferin Street to honor Miss Ruth Nordquist, a visitor from Minneapolis. Three tables of bridge were in play and other guests came in for the tea hour. Mrs. Francis Norton and Mrs. Cyril Penzer presided at the tea table which was attractively decorated with sweet peas and snapdragons.

Former Victorian a Visitor

A visitor from Toronto who is being entertained by Victoria friends, is Mrs. Gordon McCurdy, who is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew McKellar, Dufferin Avenue. Mrs. McCurdy is known to a wide circle of musicians as a singer and pianist, and as Minnie McCurdy, is following a professional musical career in Los Angeles, studying piano accompaniment with Mrs. A. Koldosky at University of California. She will leave on Saturday to return to Toronto, spending a week in Vancouver, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frith, Angus Drive.

Popular Couple Honored

Miss Shirley Cameron and Mr. Harry Powell, who are to be married Saturday evening, were presented with a coffee table at a surprise shower given recently by Misses Norma Harris, Doreen Eaton and Shirley Anderson. The party was held at the home of Miss Anderson. Upon arrival, the bride-elect was presented with a corsage of gladioli surrounded by sweet peas, and the groom-elect received a novelty corsage.

Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Paine, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Shore, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Mr. and Mrs. George Forbes, and Misses Gail Anderson, Ann King, Joan Hansen, Ellen Stroud, Bev Carter and Messrs. Dave McDonald, Ken Dick, Bert Rogers, Joe Edgington, Ron Reid, Walter Hamilton, Jim Cameron, Bob Smith and Ken Lapham.

Musicians Holiday Here

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams have left for their home in Toronto after spending several days at the Oak Bay home of Mrs. Adams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Straghan. Mr. Adams recently starred in the Theatre Under The Stars productions of "Rose Marie" and "Song of Norway" in Vancouver and later this month will appear as principal singer in a historic cavalcade to be presented under auspices of the Associated Country Women of the World at Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Dugald McGregor entertained friends late today Thursday at their home on Weald Road, the Uplands.

Holidaying for three weeks in Calgary, is Ian McDougall of Victoria. While in the prairie city he is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Cormack.

Miss Ruth Nordquist is a visitor in the city from Minneapolis, Minn., the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Norton, at their home on Lansdowne Road.

Miss Marnie Wilson is leaving Victoria today for a two-week visit in Los Angeles, where she will be the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kenneth Wardroper. Mr. Wardroper is the vice-consul in charge at the Canadian Consulate in the California city.

2. The Ladysmith Breakwater.
3. The Nanaimo Assembly Wharf Extension.

TURKEY SENDS WOMAN FLIER TO AMERICA

MONTREAL (BUP)—Turkish women have come a long way since they dropped their veils.

And the best example is Madam Sabiha Gokcen (Sah-Bee-Ha Gook-Jen), Turkey's famous flier. Clad in a smart tan uniform the blue eyed Turkish pilot is touring American civil air patrol installations with a group of cadets from her country.

Speaking in halting English Madam Gokcen says she doesn't know what made her take up flying. But she admits her foster father—President Kemal Ataturk—who founded modern Turkey, had a lot to do with it.

Knitwear on College Teams

Sweaters can be defined as refined in a classic mood with stress on soft dressmaker touches, luxury blends and hand touches of delicate embroidery. Costumes headline the other knitted categories, most important suits and dresses emphasizing the ensemble mood. There is a wide choice of party and at-home knitwear. Halters, wetsuits, decollete types with fur and glitter are fresh and novel. Also knitted are pants, shorts, leisure jackets and coats.

Windswept Skirts

Back fullness flared from a centre back seam in windswept silhouette adds enough ease for a comfortable skirt, say Women's Wear Daily fashion writers. Flat fronts with rounded hiplines accented with tucks or pockets are typical for skirts with this back fullness. A new skirt silhouette that takes well to drawstring jackets and little vestee tops.

Nanaimo Wedding of Interest

The wedding was solemnized by the Rev. George McMichan in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Nanaimo, B.C., when Margaret Mary Grant, RN, daughter of Group Capt. and Mrs. J. M. Grant, 1437 Oliver Street, Oak Bay, was united in marriage with Mr. Bertram John Wheelbell. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Mrs. Don McLean, sister of the groom. Mr. Don McLean supported the groom. Later a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McFarlane, 30 Perdieu Street, Nanaimo. The honeymoon is being spent at Up-Island points.

Guide Leaders Visit City

Miss Winnifred Bamber, provincial guide camp official in the Transvaal, who has been traveling in Canada on an exchange training and observing tour of girl guide camps, was in Victoria this week. She visited the guide camp at Milnes Landing and spent a day with guide commissioner Mrs. F. W. Midgley in this city before returning to the mainland. She will stop at Jasper for two days before going to eastern Canada and then back to Pretoria, South Africa. She holds a Green Cord camping diploma in the Transvaal.

Another visitor at the Milnes Landing camp at present is Miss Caroline Cummins from Houston, Tex., an exchange councillor in British Columbia. Following a 10-day stay on Vancouver Island, Miss Cummins will return to Vancouver to spend two weeks at Wilson Creek camp.

Inlaid linoleum has the design going through all the thicknesses of this floor covering. A printed linoleum is merely designed on the surface and the print will wear off rather fast.

Vancouver Designer Shows Floral Creations

Working with flowers is not only a livelihood, but also a hobby and favorite pastime of a young woman now in the city to give floral arrangement demonstrations at the Victoria Gladioli Festival. She is Mrs. Grace McCarthy, owner of a florist shop in Vancouver.

Together with two of Victoria's top floral designers, Ken Robinson, co-chairman of the festival committee, and Mrs. W. Clark, the visitor is demonstrating the latest trends in wedding, home, corsages, business and hospital arrangements.

"We are showing the newest styles in the floral hair-do creations, which go so well with summer dance dresses," Mrs. McCarthy said. "And we are giving away some of our trade secrets, so the demonstrations should prove valuable to home-makers with a flair for floral decorating."

Mrs. McCarthy has always been in the florist business. She has owned her shop for eight years. During that time she has been looking for new ideas and original styles, always striving to keep her work on a high level. She has taken time to attend classes at designer's schools in Washington, D.C., San Francisco, St. Louis and Houston. In Vancouver she established the B.C. School of Floral Design and her shop specializes in giving demonstrations to Vancouver clubs and organizations. Mrs. McCarthy has a staff of five in her shop which includes her mother, Mrs. Rietta Winterbottom, who has always been a great help to her, especially when she first started out in the business world.

Mrs. McCarthy is a busy woman. She is district representative for British Columbia of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. As president of the Hastings Chamber of Commerce, she has become the first woman president of any Chamber of Commerce group in Canada. She lives with her husband, Ray, and four-year-old daughter, Mary, in their home on Capitol Hill.

Mrs. McCarthy shows an example of her gladioli arrangements.

band, Ray, and four-year-old daughter, Mary, in their home on Capitol Hill. "Lately our home life has been pretty hectic, though," Mrs. McCarthy added, "because Ray is running in the federal election, as well as being swamped with work in his real estate business."

PRETTY TEENS

Well-Groomed Beach Beauty

Teen-agers, you're probably very pleased with your pretty new bathing suit. But when it comes to actually appearing in it at the beach, do you give it the cooperation it needs?

Your suit can't do anything for you if you ignore grooming basics, overlooked by too many girls. Look around you at the beach and you'll see the following:

Unmanicured toes. What's more noticeable than bare toes at a beach? Have yours both manicured and polished.

Dirty feet. Yes, actually. Some teen-agers go about constantly without sandals or any kind of footwear. How can their feet be anything but dirty?

Bright red back and shoulders with white spots standing out on them. These, and a peeling nose, are preventable so why let them spoil your appearance when you put on a pretty evening cotton?

Straw-like, over-bleached (by the sun) hair. Protect yours with a hat or kerchief.

Infrequent use of a razor or depilatory. Get after that stubble before it becomes noticeable.

Slouching shoulders. Line up against a wall and push the small of your back, your heels and the back of your neck against it. Now walk off with a good posture.

Even though whipped cream is not without calories, it does come in mighty handy to whip up quick and delicious desserts. This one we think is very, very good. Into a cup of sweetened whipped cream, fold a cup of sliced bananas and ½ cup roasted almonds. A tablespoon of rum affords a most exotic flavor. There'll be no complaints when this dessert is served.

Many good qualities are incorporated into the simple dress. Chalk white forms the background for black polka dots. Stole jacket and collar are in black linen with red trim.

New Fashion Co-Ordinator

MONTREAL. — Appointment of Miss Joan Blanchard as home economist and fashion co-ordinator of Dominion Textile Company Limited was announced by the company here recently. Educated in Canada and a graduate of Traphagen School of Fashion, New York, Miss Blanchard has done a variety of designing and counselling work across Canada. Her duties will include store promotions of Tex-made products from coast to coast, the writing of a national column of household hints to appear in Dominion Textile advertisements and a direct mail advice-to-consumers service.

Miss Blanchard graduated in teaching and home economics. She studied at the Traphagen School in New York before starting a two-year stint in the fashion department of one of Montreal's largest retail department stores. For some time she was Canadian stylist for McCall's Corporation, N.Y., handling their patterns in all provinces of this country, and she served as fashion co-ordinator of Hudson's Bay Company in Vancouver. More recently she has been stylist and designer with R. M. Ballantyne Co., Stratford, Ont.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This is the corrective exercise given today for fatty knees.

Q.—"Is it possible to firm one's bust after having children?"

A.—Yes, by developing the underlying chest muscles, the condition can be improved. Women could avoid much of the loss of bust beauty if they would take a few preventive measures. Brassieres which are planned especially for pregnancy and the nursing period, the habit of lying down when nursing your baby, of not allowing caking of the breasts, gradual weaning and exercises afterwards, will leave the bust little changed.

Q.—"Do facial exercises help get rid of wrinkles?"

A.—The tone of the muscles is one of the factors in facial aging. Therefore, when their tone is improved so is facial contour. Many of my pupils and readers have been greatly improved by facial exercises. There are other factors also. The decrease in fatty deposits, drying out of the skin, general health and facial mannerisms are some of them.

Q.—"I am 14 years old, five feet seven inches tall and weigh 192 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 28 and hips 40. My trouble is very large legs. That is where my fat accumulated. My knees are fat, too. Could you give me exercises?"

A.—Yes, there are leg slimming exercises. However, you are very much overweight and should reduce. With that much to lose, and at your age, I think you should reduce under a doctor's supervision. You will lose weight on the knees as you lose pounds. Concentrate on hip reducing exercises. Otherwise you are in proportion.

Try this exercise for fat knees. Lie on your stomach, leaning on elbows. Bend the left knee, pointing the toes toward the head. Straighten the left knee as you bend the right knee. One knee bends as the other straightens. Do this rapidly, trying to spank yourself.

Before laundering lipstick-stained clothing, soften the stain with cold cream.

Big Leather Crop

Leather and leather-trimmed sportswear has never appeared on such a style-conscious and versatile plane as it does this year. From the halter to the trench coat leather makes headlines. Colors ranging from the autumn shades to the most delicate pastels give them a wearing season from fall to spring with special appeal for around holiday time.

Boy jackets, soft shirts, cardigans, weskits, windbreakers, boxy toppers and leather sweaters are particularly suited to campus life. The indoor leather fashion story is the newest and can be seen in sleeveless blouses, doekin shirts, leather pants, shell vests, knit and leather pull-ons. Carrying out leather themes are any number of tweeds, flannels, camel wools, knitwear and jersey separates with leather markings.

Wedding Photo Angers South African

wedding photograph stirred up racial and republican debate in the South African House of Assembly Thursday.

Justice Minister Charles Swart indignantly held up a wedding picture of a Nigerian native and the daughter of a former British cabinet minister.

He described it as a "disgusting photograph" and said that if such things were allowed to happen in South Africa it would be "the end."

Peggy Cripps, daughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, married Joseph Appiah, an Ashanti tribesman, in London July 18.

Swart was speaking in support of Premier Daniel Malan's racial discrimination program.

Odeon—What might have been an excellent western action geared to adult appreciation turns out to be nothing more than a picture leveled to the credulity of small boys and girls who haven't as yet experienced the sophistication of a 12th birthday.

A pity, this, because the story was originally there. You can feel it. So is one of the soundest western actors of today, Mr.
Joel McCrea, capable Alex Nicol, Barbara Hale and the likes of fifty juvenile thespian 12-year-old Jimmy Hunt. But stagey dialogue, unbelievable situations and corn-a-la-meller-
like one of the horses directed it.

The plot, in brief:
McCrea and his young son,
Jimmy, come west to buy a ranch. Their money is short but their hopes are high. Much to the son's hurt and chagrin his beloved widower dad (1) falls in love with Miss Hale; (2) spurns a proposal to join the vigilantes who are hunting killers in the territory; (3) joins the outlaws.

In the end both son Jimmy and wife Barbara are taking an extremely shady view of hardridin', soft-spoken McCrea. Of course, it all works out to formula thanks to the good old rusty cutting-room scissors of Universal. International. Once again gunsmoke tradition is preserved for western fans who never seemingly tire of watching the hero win, the heroine get kissed and the knaves confounded.

In spite of the bountiful corn harvest, however, credit must go to whom credit is due. Mc-Crea plays the hard-ridin' ranny with his customary down-to-earth style; young Hunt, already veteran of some 40 films, is a credit to his teachings. But top award should go to cameraman Maury Gertsman for his magnificent Technicolor treatment of the colorful Colorado scenery near Durango.

Recapitulation: If you're under 12, or would like to be under 12 again, then this is for you, partner.

atre's amiable manager, Bill

Times Crossword Contest $75 in Cash

THREE WINNERS LAST WEEK

THE RULES

Solve the clues as you would any crossword puzzle. Clip out the dotted form and mail it to The Times Crossword, c/o The Victoria Daily Times.

You can send in as many entries as you like, in one envelope, but they must be on the form printed in the paper. Facsimiles will NOT be permitted. The puzzle will be printed on Fridays, Saturdays, and Mondays.

All answers must be received by the morning mail of Wednesday. Be sure to clip on the dotted line. This is for the convenience of tallying entries.

EARLY MAILING WILL BE APPRECIATED

The answer will be printed in Thursday's paper each week. It will be a good idea to keep a record of your solution and compare it with the answer.

PRIZES

Anyone may enter, with the exception of employees of Victoria Press Ltd. and their families.

A prize of $25 will be paid for solving the puzzle. If more than one contestant succeeds in solving a correct answer the prize money will be divided. If no one succeeds in answering the puzzle correctly the prize will be added to next week's prize money of $25 and so on until a winner is obtained.

BONUS

If the winner is a regular subscriber to The Times by carrier or mail, a special bonus of $50 will be paid, in addition to the regular prize. The bonus will also be divided if there is more than one winner.

Solve the clues carefully before you write down your answers. There is always a "winner" which is best. The decision of the judges in the contest will be final and all contestants taking part agree to abide by their decisions.

New Island Highway Outlet Slices Through Burnside Area

This aerial photo of Victoria's new Island Highway outlet, taken by Times photographer Bill Halkett, shows how traffic will be able to move in and out of the city on a straight, wide thoroughfare. The new road, expected to be in use early next year, is a far cry from the existing outlet—the narrow, twisting Gorge Road. The road starts at the intersection of Douglas and Regina and follows Battleford and the CNR tracks in the general direction of Portage Inlet which can be seen at top. First section of the highway ends in the vicinity of Thetis Lake Road. Second section will join the existing highway in the Goldstream area. The new outlet, combined with a new Patricia Bay Highway to the city, is expected to over-tax the city controversial roundabout at Hillside and Douglas Streets, possibly resulting in removal of the circular traffic control.

Red Goon Squads Storm Food Centres

Communists Adopt New Tactics in Efforts To Halt Distribution of American Supplies

BERLIN (UP)—More than 3,000 Red toughs stormed the western sectors of Berlin today under orders to break up the distribution of "Eisenhower food parcels" to hungry Soviet Zone Germans.

SLAVE LABOR?

Reds Said Holding U.S. PWs Back

PANMUNJOM (AP).—A healthier group of 394 Allied war prisoners came out of Communist captivity today and added to mushrooming reports that the Reds are holding back some PWs—including perhaps 2,000 to 3,000 Americans.

Eighty-one Americans were among the group released today under a brilliant sun at this wayside village in the third day of the Korean war prisoner exchange—"Operation Big Switch."

Although the Reds had promised 400, an unofficial count showed six South Koreans missing from the scheduled 250. There was no immediate explanation.

The Reds also sent back 25 Britons, 25 Turks, 12 Filipinos and seven Colombians.

They said the next group, scheduled Saturday morning, would include 90 Americans, 250 South Koreans, 35 Turks and 25 Britons.

That will bring the total of Americans released to 311, a fraction of the 3,313 the Reds have promised to return.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Speculation grew in army circles today that the Communists have shipped captured Americans to

The Communists battle West Berlin police in the streets of the American, British and French sectors before being driven back behind Berlin's little iron curtain.

Western police used clubs and powerful "water cannon" mounted on trucks to beat off the Red invaders bent on wrecking food distribution centres.

They shouted "American swine" and "give back the food packages" at thousands of East Germans collecting the American food parcels.

Police said several members of the Red "goon squads" were sent to west sector hospitals suffering scalp and head injuries. A score or more of the Communist hot-heads were arrested.

The Soviets were reported today to be rushing troops from Poland into riot-torn East Germany to strengthen their occupation army in face of growing anti-Communist rebellion.

This report was given Western authorities by East German railway men who came into West Berlin to receive "Eisenhower parcels" of American food.

They reported the movement of trainload after trainload of Soviet troops into East Germany from Poland beginning last week-end.

Reinforcement of the 300,000-man Soviet occupation force in East Germany would explain the large-scale troop movements reported to Western authorities from many sources.

21,915TH CUP OF TEA IN BED

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—William Kemp promised his bride he would serve her a cup of tea in bed every morning of their married life.

Thursday, on their 60th wedding anniversary, Mrs. Frances Mary Kemp had her 21,915th cup of tea, served by her husband.

"Sometimes I didn't want him to, like when he was sick," said Mrs. Kemp, 80. "But he promised he would bring me tea every morning and that's the way it's been."

Kemp, 82, smiled and said, "a promise is a promise."

Rochon Beats Cuban

MONTREAL (UP)—Southpaw Henri Rochon of Canada outfoxed Cuba's 19-year-old Reynaldo Garrido, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4, today to give Canada a 1-0 edge in the North American zone Davis Cup semi-final round.

Sign Pact Saturday

SEOUL (AP)—State Secretary Dulles and President Syngman Rhee will initial the draft of a security treaty between the United States and South Korea Saturday. It was announced officially tonight.

NEW YORK HAS BRIGHT SIDE

Canucks Entertained After Beating, Theft

NEW YORK (UP)—Three vacationing Canadians who were beaten and robbed here Tuesday headed home today with a good opinion of New York after all.

Things were dark for Thomas Kelle, 21; James Brown, 24; and Hugh Johnson, 18, when five men beat them and robbed them of $140. They had been sleeping in their automobile in Brooklyn. They didn't even know how they would raise funds to get home when Macklin Boettger, a fabricated metal manufacturer of Long Island City, N.Y., stepped into the picture.

Boettger contacted the Canadians through the Canadian consulate, invited them to be his house guest and gave them a cruise around Long Island on his yacht on Wednesday. Charles J. King, owner of a swanky Long Island supper club, furnished their dinner and entertainment that night.

Fierce Pacific Storm Kills 1; Damage Heavy

VANCOUVER (CP)—A severe electrical storm struck British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest United States Thursday night and today, killing one man, disrupting communications and causing some property damage.

Brunt of the storm appeared to have hit Washington and Oregon states. A ranch worker was killed at Toppenish, Wash., and minor damage was reported in the two states.

Communication systems suffered the main damage in B.C. Some disruption was caused to Canadian Press teletype circuits serving Vancouver Island, Trail, Nelson and Prince Rupert. Telephone and other electrical circuits also were temporarily disrupted.

The storm was accompanied by heavy rain which drenched early morning workers in Vancouver and New Westminster. High winds and rain were reported in central and western Washington.

At Toppenish, Wash., Ramon Arellano, 22, was struck and killed by lightning Thursday. Police said the ranchhand was trying to turn on a water tap near an electrical transformer when the lightning hit.

Laniel and his ministers repeated that the measures were not as bad as the unions feared. Informed sources said the vast labor opposition might force the government to modify the projects considerably before Saturday.

The disputed economy decrees were scheduled for discussion today by the Civil Service Commission and by a committee of cabinet members concerned. The decrees were to be submitted to the full cabinet Saturday for final decision.

Victoria Tot Hit By Car

Four-year-old Lorne Scharbach, 821 Ralph Street, was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment this afternoon after being hit by a car at Douglas and Ralph. Suffering cuts, abrasions and shock, he was taken to hospital by Saanich police.

Canada Leads Cuba 2 to 0 in Tennis

MONTREAL (CP)—Lorne Main of Canada today gave Canada a 2-0 lead over Cuba in the semifinals North American zone Davis Cup Tennis tie, defeating Orlando Garrido, 3-1. Main won the sets 6-2, 6-3, and 6-2, after dropping the first 7-5.

Earlier Henri Rochon defeated 19-year-old Reynaldo Garrido in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Record Peacetime Manoeuvre Planned

CALGARY (CP)—The largest peacetime military exercise in the history of the Canadian Army will be held at Wainwright, Alta., Aug. 20-29, with more than 5,000 active and reserve force troops taking part.

Maj. Gen. Chris Vokes, general officer commanding, Western Command, will be directing officer of the exercise. To be known as exercise Buffalo IV, and designed to take place on a divisional scale, the scheme will also act as a test of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade replacement group, the next Canadian formation to go to Korea.

Vancouver Sends SOS for Idle Nurses

VANCOUVER (CP)—A call for nurses not now actively engaged in the profession to assist the hard-pressed staff of Vancouver General Hospital was issued by hospital officials today.

Largely responsible for the present condition are the number of police suspects who have been admitted to the hospital.

Many Albanians Fall in Purge

ATHENS (AP)—A recent wave of executions inside Albania took the lives of a police director and nine senior army officers, according to press reports from Kastoria, Northern Greece today. During the first 15 days of July, the reports said, 82 prisoners, including 32 Greeks, died of starvation and torture in Albanian concentration camps.

Reds Said
Holding U.S.
PWs Back

PANMUNJOM (AP).—A healthier group of 394 Allied war prisoners came out of Communist captivity today and added to mushrooming reports that the Reds are holding back some PWs—including perhaps 2,000 to 3,000 Americans.

Eighty-one Americans were among the group released today under a brilliant sun at this wayside village in the third day of the Korean war prisoner exchange—“Operation Big Switch.”

Although the Reds had promised 400, an unofficial count showed six South Koreans missing from the scheduled 250. There was no immediate explanation.

The Reds also sent back 25 Britons, 25 Turks, 12 Filipinos and seven Colombians.

They said the next group, scheduled Saturday morning, would include 30 Americans, 250 South Koreans, 35 Turks and 25 Britons.

That will bring the total of Americans released to 311, a fraction of the 3,313 the Reds have promised to return.

IWA Ousted by TLC
Union at Local Mill

The IWA, which has held bargaining rights for employees of Horton's Cedar Manufacturing Co., Ltd., since 1944, lost out today when workers there voted to be represented instead by the shingle weavers' local of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union.

The vote, conducted today at noon, showed 18 in favor of being represented by the carpenters' union, TLC affiliate, and 14 in favor of remaining with the IWA, a CCL union.

Horton's was threatened with strike action by the IWA since it had refused to implement conciliation board recommendations for settling a wage dispute. All other plants in this area with IWA contracts have agreed to the terms.

Cash and Carry Milk Backed By U.S. Economist

VANCOUVER (CP)—Farmers would benefit from any price reduction in the cost of cash and carry milk in Vancouver stores, Dr. R. W. Bartlett, professor of agricultural economics at University of Illinois, told the Milk Board today.

The board is hearing evidence on the question of decontrol of milk prices which would enable chain stores to retail milk in paper containers at an estimated two cents a quart less than home delivery.

Dr. Bartlett was called by Canada Safeway Ltd. to present his views in support of Safeway's contention that the board should permit a two-cent store differential.

“A store differential has increased the per capita sales in every city in the United States where studies have been made,” said the U.S. economist.

Duncan Mill Fire
Probed by Police

Loss in Eight Lumber Blazes Reaches $1,250,000; Loss Partly Insured

The eighth sawmill fire on the lower B.C. coast in the last four weeks razed the $250,000 Evans Lumber Company mill on the Cowichan Lake Road near Duncan in the early hours of this morning.

Damage in the eight fires has totaled over $1,250,000. The heaviest loss has been on Vancouver Island where the Sooke Lake sawmill at Leechtown suffered $500,000 damage on July 23.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police are investigating the cause of the Evans fire. They have also probed other blazes. In some of them arson has been suspected, but no charges have been laid.

Water Shortage Hampered Firemen

Shortage of water seriously hampered North Cowichan road crews who manned equipment; but they saved the mill-owner's home and oil storage tanks nearby.

A stream of cars with spectators cluttered the Cowichan Lake Road and slowed the work of firefighters.

Perry Ross, North Cowichan road foreman, organized the firefighters and guarded the timber near at hand where a deluge of sparks caused grave danger of a forest outbreak.

Mrs. Evans, wife of the pioneer family mill owner, Robert Evans, 71, said her husband was the first to discover the blaze.

It started in the main mill plant and spread with great rapidity.

Only three weeks ago Mr. Evans was negotiating a sale of the plant. But although the intending purchasers actually took over the operation for some days, the deal was not completed.

Mr. Evans' loss is partly covered by insurance.

Airways, Buses, Mail
Brought to Standstill

By EDWARD M. KORRY

PARIS (UP)—Airline, subway and bus employees today joined a mushrooming strike of more than 2,000,000 French civil servants and nationalized job-holders which brought life in France to an almost complete standstill.

Shipping workers joined the walkout and the nationalized Compagnie Generale Transatlantique was crippled. Technicians, administrative personnel and repair crews quit at intervals during the day.

The wholesale walkouts, which have crippled telephone, telegraph, gas, electric and postal services, was in protest against government economies demanded by Premier Joseph Laniel.

The government answered the strikers with an announcement that Laniel's drastic economic decrees will be pushed through in spite of the paralyzing protests.

FLIGHTS GROUNDED

Latest group to join the strike was the ground personnel of the nationalized Air France air lines. Many flights were grounded at Le Bourget and Orly fields.

Subway and bus workers walked off their jobs earlier. Railway men, miners, gas and electric workers, street cleaners, garbage collectors and even undertakers had joined in the nationwide shutdown, the most crippling since the series of strikes in 1936 which brought the Socialist popular front into power.

The disputed economy decrees were scheduled for discussion today by the Civil Service Commission and by a committee of cabinet members concerned. The decrees were to be submitted to the full cabinet Saturday for final decision.

Laniel and his ministers repeated that the measures were not as bad as the unions feared. Informed sources said the vast labor opposition might force the government to modify the projects considerably before Saturday.

Sign Pact Saturday

SEOUL (AP)—State Secretary Dulles and President Syngman Rhee will initial the draft of a security treaty between the United States and South Korea Saturday, it was announced officially tonight.

Police withheld names of the RCMP officers. The car, said to have been driven by a civilian, mounted a 12-foot bank and struck a telephone pole. One officer suffered extensive head lacerations.

Communists Adopt New Tactics in Efforts To Halt Distribution of American Supplies

BERLIN (UP)—More than 3,000 Red toughs stormed the western sectors of Berlin today under orders to break up the distribution of “Eisenhower food parcels” to hungry Soviet Zone Germans.

The Communists battled West Berlin police in the streets of the American, British and French sectors before being driven back behind Berlin's little iron curtain.

Western police used clubs and powerful “water cannon” mounted on trucks to beat off the Red invaders bent on wrecking food distribution centres.

They shouted “American swine” and “give back the food packages” at thousands of East Germans collecting the American food parcels.

Police said several members of the Red “goon squads” were sent to west sector hospitals suffering scalp and head injuries. A score or more of the Communists hot-heads were arrested.

The Soviets were reported today to be rushing troops from Poland into riot-torn East Germany to strengthen their occupation army in face of growing anti-Communist rebellion.

This report was given Western authorities by East German railway men who came into West Berlin to receive “Eisenhower parcels” of American food.

They reported the movement of railroad after railroad of Soviet troops into East Germany from Poland beginning last week-end.

Reinforcement of the 300,000-man Soviet occupation force in East Germany would explain the large-scale troop movements reported to Western authorities from many sources.

Fierce Pacific
Storm Kills 1;
Damage Heavy

VANCOUVER (CP)—A severe electrical storm struck British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest United States Thursday night and today, killing one man, disrupting communications and causing some property damage.

Brunt of the storm appeared to have hit Washington and Oregon states. A ranch worker was killed at Toppenish, Wash., and minor damage was reported in the two states.

Communication systems suffered the main damage in B.C. Some disruption was caused to Canadian Press teletype circuits serving Vancouver Island, Trail, Nelson and Prince Rupert. Telephone and other electrical circuits also were temporarily disrupted.

The storm was accompanied by heavy rain which drenched early morning workers in Vancouver and New Westminster. High winds and rain were reported in central and western Washington.

At Toppenish, Wash., Ramon Arellano, 22, was struck and killed by lightning Thursday.
